ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR COTTON

KIDNAPED BREWER RETURNED HOME AS RANSOM IS PAID

WILLIAM HAMM, JR., UNHARMED; LESS THAN HUNDRED THOUSAND PAID

ST. PAUL, June 19.—(AP)—Five or six men, one of them resembling Verne Sankey, wanted for questioning in connection with two other abductions, kidnaped William Hamm, millionaire president of the Theodore Hamm Brewing company, he said on his return today soon after being released unharmed 45 miles from home.

Hamm said he did not know how much ransom was paid. H. J. Charles, attorney for the brewing company, declined to name the amount paid the adductors who originally demanded $100,000.

The ransom was delivered either by W. W. Dunn, city sales manager of the brewing company and close friend of Hamm, or another undisclosed person. Contact was effected during a ride made by the person carrying the money in a company automobile. Acting under instructions from the kidnapers, the doors and a section of the back had been removed so no one could be concealed in the machine.

Business men of St. Paul are contributing to a reward fund which has reached $30,000 and is expected by Howarn Kahn, the trustee, to total $50,000.

ST. PAUL, June 19.—(AP)—William Hamm, Jr., 39, kidnaped millionaire brewer, was released unharmed 45 miles from here today and returned home, saying he had been seized Thursday by a gang of three or more men.

Hamm said he did not know how much ransom was paid and others declined to reveal the amount except to say it was not the full $100,000 originally asked by the kidnapers.

One of the kidnapers, Hamm said, resembled Verne Sankey, now a fugitive wanted for the kidnapping of Charles Boettcher, II., of Denver, for $60,000 in February and the seizure of Haskell Bohn, St. Paul, released nearly a year ago on payment of $12,000.

He said that he was not sure of the identification. A taxi driver who delivered a message from the kidnapers to a Hamm associate early Friday also said the sender resembled Sankey.

"When I left the office to go to lunch, Thursday," Hamm said, "two men on foot grabbed me, one on each side."

"That was about a half a block from the office, and neither of them had guns but they used enough force to convince me I'd better go."

Hamm said these men and the driver were the only ones he really saw during his imprisonment.

Kept Out of Sight.

During the daylight ride out of St. Paul he was forced to lie in the bottom of the car with a white coat over his eyes. Later when it grew dark, he was permitted to sit on the seat beside the men but was forced to wear goggles with the inside blanketed with cotton,

WOMAN EYEWITNESS SAYS FLOYD MEMBER KANSAS CITY GANG

PICTURE OF NOTED OUTLAW PICKED OUT AS MACHINE GUNNER SATURDAY

KANSAS CITY, June 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Lottie West, a witness of the shooting here Saturday in which four peace officers and their prisoner were killed in front of the union station today identified a picture of Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, notorious Oklahoma outlaw, as that of one of the machine gunners who attacked the party.

Mrs. West, Travelers' Aid worker at the station, picked the photograph from a group spread before her.

Floyd was in the vicinity of Kansas City Friday night, when he liberated Sheriff Jack Killingsworth of Polk county after holding him a hostage throughout the day. The killings at the station occurred shortly after 7 a.m. Saturday.

Chief of Detectives T. J. Higgins and other authorities previously expressed doubt that Floyd had any connection with the shooting.

Says Taken For Prisoner.

OKLAHOM ACITY, June 19.—(AP)—Federal Agent Frank Smith, only one of seven officers who was not touched by machine gun fire which killed Frank Nash, escaped train robber, and four officers at Kansas City Saturday, returned to his home here today

Smith said he was confident he owed his life to the crack shooting of the machine gunners, who, he said he believed, mistook him for Nash. He said he was positive the gang hoped to free Nash.

"I was in the back seat of the sedan," Smith explained "I sat

SCENE OF BLOODY MASSACRE ON KANSAS CITY'S UNION STATION PLAZA

Four officers and a convict being returned to the Leavenworth federal penitentiary were slain by machine gunners who attempted to liberate Frank Nash, the prisoner, on the plaza of the Union Station at Kansas City, Mo., in view of hundreds of persons. Another officer was wounded. The machine gunners escaped. In photo on left the arrow points to two of the slain officers who fell between two cars In photo on right the arrow points to body of Frank Nash, dead convict in the officer's car.

NIGHTWATCHMAN AT BLOOMING GROVE IS KIDNAPERS' VICTIM

THREE BANDITS HELD GEORGE SMITH CAPTIVE WHILE ROBBING STORE

Three unidentified men kidnaped Nightwatchman George Smith at Blooming Grove, and then burglarized Jim Carroll's grocery about 2 o'clock Monday morning, Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse reported later in the day. About $35 was secured from the safe and cash register of the grocery store. No other business houses were reported molested.

The trio drove up to a filling station at Blooming Grove about 2 o'clock and when they began preparations to put air in a tire, Nightwatchman Smith advanced and held his flashlight to aid them. One of the group slipped up behind him and put a gun in his back, taking him captive. He was tied and blindfolded and taken to a pasture on the edge of town, and one of the men remained as a guard while the remaining two went back to town and plundered the safe and cash register of the grocery. Neither of the tills were locked and the burglars took about $35 in cash, but nothing else was missing when the owners checked their stocks.

Returning to their captive, they loaded him into a car and carried him to an oat field near Cryer Creek a short distance from Barry, and left him, still blindfolded and tied. Smith freed himself and walked to Barry, which he first thought was Blooming Grove, and immediately notified Sheriff Pevehouse. The Sheriff and Deputy Jack Floyd answered the call, and other business houses were checked, but few clues were found and nothing was missing that could be determined from other business houses.

The nightwatchman told the Sheriff that no threats were made against him and aside from his bonds, he was treated courteously by the burglarizing kidnapers.

MILLIONAIRE MINNESOTA MAN GIVES COMPLETE STORY OF HIS KIDNAPING ASSOCIATED PRESS

By WILLIAM HAMM
(Copyright, 1933, by the Associated Press.)

ST. PAUL, June 19.—(AP)—From the time I was kidnaped by two men and another man who was driving their automobile shortly after noon last Thursday I never was abused. They treated me kindly all the time.

I was surprised as two men came up to me about 12:45 p. m., last Thursday. One of them said "Hello, Mr. Hamm," and after shaking hands one grabbed me on each side and they put me into a car.

They were not rough with me but, well, they convinced me I ought to go. I had only a fleeting impression of the two men's appearances although one of them resembled Verne Sankey. I could not be sure, of course.

I didn't take particular notice of the kind of car I was put in. I'm not up on all the automobiles. I didn't see any guns but I felt one against me during the ride out of town.

When I entered the car, they made me lie on the botton of the automobile after putting a white hood over my eyes. I am not sure which way they headed out of town.

I couldn't say how long a drive we took, but it seemed about eight hours. And the same time coming back today when three men again were in the car with me. There wasn't very much conversation during the ride back.

After we had gone about 30 miles out of St. Paul we stopped and met another car. There were several men in it. There I signed four ransom notes while laying on the bottom of the machine.

Then they took off the hood and placed goggles over my eyes. They were taken off just before we pulled up to the house where I was held. I couldn't recognize any of the country we went through because I had on those goggles all the the time and they were covered inside with cotton.

Finally, after I had been driven quite a long time, we stopped at a house. It was a two-story house somewhere in Northern Minnesota although for a time I had thought it was in Wisconsin. The windows were boarded up.

It was dark. There was a light in the room where I was put. The room as furnished simply and the house looked like a farmhouse or a city home. It might have been a farmhouse on the outskirts of the city. I heard traffic noises.

They came in to see me in the room anytime I wanted anything. They treated me nicely.

It is hard to say how old the men were for I got only fleeting

THREE MEN HELD FOR GRAND JURY ACTION ON LIQUOR CHARGES

SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT AND HIGHWAY PATROLMEN SEIZE WHISKEY

Three men are facing complaints of violation of the prohibition laws, 108 gallons of whiskey and ten gallons of alcohol have been confiscated, and two guns and two automobiles are in the custody of the sheriff's department as a result of activities of the Navarro county sheriff's department and state highway patrolmen over the week end.

Milton Franklin (Buddy) Ormsby and Johnny Wallace, both of Dallas, were bound over to await the action of the Navarro county grand jury at the conclusion of a hearing conducted in Justice of the Peace Sam B. Jordan's court on complaints of transportation and possession of intoxicating liquors filed by State Highway Patrolmen Ross Dickey and W. J. Hargett.

The two men were halted near Richland on Highway 75 Saturday night and when questioned, told the officers that they were reporters for a Dallas newspaper. Asking permission to search the car, and receiving it, Patrolman Dickey raised the cover over the compartment, and looked up to find the two men running from the car. When he ordered them to halt Wallace stopped but Ormsby continued, Dickey said. Seventy-two gallons of liquor, a .44 calibre repeating rifle, and a sawed-off shotgun, and a quantity of shells, several of them buckshot with cut jackets were found in the car. Wallace was brought to Corsicana and placed in the Navarro county jail.

Ormsby was arrested Sunday afternoon by Patrolman Dickey when he returned to Corsicana with attorneys seeking Wallace's release. Bond was set at $1,000 each for the pair, and a bond presented by Wallace's attorneys was approved by Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse and he was released Sunday night. Ormsby was still in jail Monday afternoon.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR STABILIZATION AT STANDSTILL MONDAY

EVERYTHING REPORTED TO HINGE ON FURTHER WORD FROM ROOSEVELT.

LONDON, June 19.—(AP)—Adjournment of the world economic conference until the question of stabilization of currencies can be settled was advocated today in the conference headquarters lobby by the European gold bloc.

It was understood the French were fostering this program on the ground that no progress was possible on other lines until some form of stabilization had been achieved.

LONDON, June 19.—(AP)—Official negotiations for controlled stabilization of the major currencies, which France adamantly insists must be achieved before the world economic conference can make progress on other vital problems, were understood to have come to a complete standstill today.

Everything was said to hinge on further word from President Roosevelt. In American delegation quarters it was stated that nothing was expected from the president pending his conversation with George L. Harrison, governor of the federal reserve bank of New York, who is en route from London to America.

The continental gold bloc, headed by France, while still trying to find a compromise solution, indicated they were not so hopeful. They even expected that Mr. Roosevelt might order the American representatives here to kill the stabilization idea entirely.

Coincident with this situation, the dollar had a fresh slump,

Congressman Dies Suddenly Monday Louisiana Home

AMITE, La., June 19.—(AP)—Bolivar Edwards Kemp of Amite, who represented the Sixth Louisiana district in congress for the past eight years, died suddenly at his home here early today shortly after returning from Washington.

Mr. Kemp came home from the arduous special session complaining of feeling badly.

He suffered a heart attack at 7 a. m. which proved fatal.

His brother, William B. Kemp, 51, prominent Southeast Louisiana attorney, died similarly here three weeks ago.

Congressman Kemp, representing the district which included Baton Rouge, the state capital, played a prominent role in securing flood control legislation for the Mississippi Valley. He was a democrat.

Surviving were his widow and two children, Bolivar, Jr., and Eleanor Ogden.

PROCESSING TAX AND LEASING [illegible] MILLION [illegible]

PLAN IS CONTINGENT [illegible] CO-OPERATION OF SOUTH[illegible]ERN PLANTERS

WASHINGTON, June [illegible] (AP)—Secretary Wallace today announced his [illegible] plan calling for the levying of maximum processing taxes and the leasing of up to ten million acres of cotton contingent upon the willingness of Southern planters to co-operate in the program.

Cotton producers will be asked to sign contracts offering to [illegible] a definite amount of their acreage to the secretary. A [illegible] "cotton week" campaign will be conducted beginning June [illegible] throughout the cotton belt during which an intensive effort to obtain the co-operation of growers will be made.

Wallace, indicating confidence that growers will co-operate to ease the burden of final determination on the planters by specifying that he will not accept the offered lease unless a sufficient number have been received to justify the reduction program.

Unless acreage capable of producing two million bales of cotton is out of production is leased, Wallace said that he did not believe there would be any use in applying the program.

The average yield in the [illegible] is one-third of a bale to an acre and six million bales has been tentatively set as a minimum.

The amount of the tax is based on the difference between the current average farm prices and the "parity" price based on the pre-war farm price averages. If [illegible] is put into effect as of June [illegible] it would be 4.1 cents per pound.

Tax Problematical.

Wallace said the current [illegible] price may go up [illegible] August 1, thus either increasing or decreasing the maximum [illegible] he will levy.

Two plans will be offered growers. First, a cash payment in consideration of co-operation based on the productivity of the land and ranging from $6 per acre for land yielding on the average around one hundred pounds of lint cotton per acre to $12 for land yielding on the average 275 pounds or more per acre. [illegible] an option on government-held cotton in an amount equal to that which the producer agrees to withdraw from production. The options will be offered at six cents per pound, nearly three cents under the current market price.

Second plan calls for a cash benefit without the cotton option, the amount of the benefit or rental to be on a per acre basis, to range from $7 for land yielding from 100 to 124 pounds per acre to $20 for land yielding 275 pounds or more per acre.

Cotton Week.

The effort to obtain the co-operation will be made throughout the cotton belt, and to be known as cotton week, and an attempt will be made by Wallace to have them acted upon within a week or ten days after the campaign has opened.

If the campaign succeeds

MARKETS CONTINUED SPIRITED RISE UNDER ENCOURAGEMENT OF ADMINISTRATION'S DECISION

NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—Gaining fresh encouragement from the administration's decision to go slowly on any plan to peg the dollar, financial markets continued their rise in spirited fashion today.

Stocks were whirled up from 2 to 7 points on a volume of trading which pointed to a 6,000,000-share day. Around midday the market paused a bit under substantial realizing, but prices were generally well maintained near the forenoon tops.

The British pound sterling jumped 7 cents to $4.14 1-2 and the French franc got up .09 of a cent to 4.82 cents.

Most of the standard industrial leaders pushed forward sharply against no important selling resistance. General Motors climbed $2.12 to $28.25; Allied Chemical jumped $5 to $117.50; U. S. Industrial Alcohol sold at $77.37 up $5.37 and Johns-Manville was an outstanding feature of the merchandising group, spurting $5 to $50.

The farm implement group was led by Case, which soared $8 to $83.25. International Harvester sold at $40.12 up $4. Owens Bottle and U. S. Industrial Alcohol rose $4.50 and $5.37 to $77 and $77.37, respectively. National Distillers pushed up $6 to $77.50.

Rails were almost as buoyant as the industrials, Santa Fe getting up $3.50 to $65.50; New York Central was up $2.37 to $38.87; Union Pacific rose $5.50 to $114; Delaware & Hudson was up $4 to $76, and Norfolk & Western, up $4 to $145.

Others showing gains of $4 to $5 a share included DuPont and

Former American Legion Commander Seriously Burned

HENDERSON, June 19.—(AP)—O. L. Bodenhamer, former national commander of the American Legion, was burned seriously early today when gas exploded among oil wells he owned eight miles west of Henderson.

Bodenhamer, whose home was at El Dorado, Ark., left Henderson before daylight en route to Houston on business. He stopped at his five producers to confer with his assistant, R. C. Cook, in preparation for reopening the wells after a three-day shutdown.

As he stood in front of Cook's home at the beginning of their conversation, Bodenhamer lit a cigarette and the explosion followed. The nearest well was about 150 yards.

Cook was burned about the hands and face and was brought with the former national commander to a Henderson hospital. Bodenhamer was conscious but was burned severely from head to foot.

Mrs. Bodenhamer was notified at her home in Eldorado and left at once for Henderson.

Bodenhamer had been operating in the East Texas oil field for two years.

BOARD OF REVIEW FOR VETERANS WILL BE READY IN JULY

WILL CONSIDER CASES OF VETERANS WITH SERVICE DISABILITIES

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(AP)—Plans to set up boards early in July to review cases of veterans whose disabilities are presumed to have originated in the service were laid today by the veterans administration to carry out the Roosevelt program for liberalizing benefits to former soldiers from the reductions made by the economy law.

Veterans administration officials could not say whether the reviewing boards would be set up in each state or by areas or what the procedure would be, other than to express the opinion the boards would automatically review each presumptive case before the veteran was dropped from the compensation rolls rather than every veteran having to apply for a review.

They will determine in reviewing the so-called presumptive cases whether the veteral shall be granted the prosumption of service connection for his disability or ailment.

Under the law of 1924, voided by the economy act, several types of disease were presumed to have originated in army service, such as tuberculosis and nepro-psychiatric troubles. In reviewing doubts will be in favor of the veteran and the burden of proving the trouble not of service origin is on the government.

By the terms of original regulations authorized under the economy act most presumptive cases would have been cut from the pension role July 1, but the liberalig-

Voodoo Sign to Negroes Fails To Affect Officer

A nigger wid a sack on hees back" is a voodoo sign to many members of the colored race, but to Chief of Detectives Bruce Nutt it was an exhibition of speed

The officer was driving west on West Twelfth avenue Saturday morning when he saw a negro cut across a yard to prevent meeting the officer. He called to him to halt but the negro began running. Firing a few shots over the negro's head also failed to halt him. In fact, the officer said, it made him run; he reported that the negro crashed through two fences and rolled over a third in making his getaway, dropping his sack to secure additional speed.

The sack contained eight chickens. The owner has not been determined.

Three Children Drowned in River Missouri Sunday

FORT SCOTT, Kas., June 19.—(AP)—Three children were drowned in the Marias Des Cygnes River southeast of Amoret, Mo., yesterday.

They were Vera Hamilton, 11, Freda Hamilton, 9, sisters of Amoret, and Iona Bain, 11, of Kansas City. The Hamilton girls were the daughters of H. E. Hamilton. Iona Bain was visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Estella Cole. The girls left the Cole home early in the afternoon. Their clothes were found on the river bank late in the afternoon.

Their bodies were recovered.

Two Texas Boys Burned to Death Near Mansfield

MANSFIELD, June 19.—(AP)—Two young sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Chasteem were burned to death early today when flames destroyed their home about five miles northeast of here.

Chasteem was saved by two of his older sons. Mrs. Chasteem rescued one of here babies by reaching through a bed room window from the outside and lifting it from its cot just as the roof fell in.

Chasteem, after he had been awanened by the flames and had helped rush several of his ten children to safety, returned to the home in quest of the two boys who were still inside and whose bodies were found later. The father fell unconscious on the floor from heat and smoke. He was dragged from the house by two sons.

Frank Norris, 9, and Raymond T., 4, the two children burned, were not missed until it was too late to re-enter the house. It was while walking around the burning house that Mrs. Chasteem heard one of her babies crying and peering through a window saw it upon its bed. She quickly lifted it to safety.

Cause of the fire had not been determined.

PRESIDENT ENJOYS BATTLING ELEMENTS IN SCHOONER WHILE NAVY WATCHES FROM DISTANCE

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
NANTUCKET, Mass., June 19.—(AP)—The president of the United States, his countenance plainly showing the need of a shave and his face and oil skins glistening with salt spray, put into this island port today on his vacation yacht, Amberjack II.

President Roosevelt, on a vacation voyage in the 45-foot yacht to Campo Bello Island, N. B., had planned with his party to cover the 80-mile distance from Edgartown on the island of Martha's Vineyard, where he spent the night, to Provincetown on the tip of Cape Cod today.

A stiff north wind so badly kicked up the sea, however, that he thought best to put into Nantucket for shelter. He explained to a delegation of town officials who came out to meet him in the harbor that he did not mind the weather himself but feared the sea was too uncomfortable for "the boys on the press boats" that followed the Amberjack far astern

The president said he was having a "bangup good time" and that he did not expect to set foot ashore for two weeks. He said he would rather sail on the Amberjack than any navy ship afloat.

The party on the Amberjack prepared to spend the night in the harbor and did not disclose their plans for the morrow.

NAVY FLYERS WAIT BETTER WEATHER TO SEARCH FOR MATTERN

ENSIGN WILLIAM A. MOFFETT, JR., IS ONE OF PAIR SEEKING MISSING AIRMAN

NOME, Alaska, June 19.—(AP)—Weather-bound by cold banks of fog and low-lying clouds for 24 hours, two navy fliers stationed in the Pribilofs awaited better conditions today to start a search for Jimmie Mattern, lost on the trans-Pacific lap of his round-the-world flight.

Their bases, the old troop ship Argonne and the aircraft tender Patoka, were prepared to steam westward along the Aleutians, reports here said, if needed to aid the search. The fliers are Ensign William A. Moffett, Jr., son of the late Rear Admiral Moffett, and Lieut. John Vest.

Meanwhile, the coast guard, together with eight to a dozen commercial and private fliers on the mainland, also were in action, hunting for Mattern, now unreported on his fifth day after taking off from Khabarovsk, Siberia, on a 2,500 mile flight to Nome.

Two years ago, Don Moyle and Cecil Allen were safe on an Aleutian island for seven days, on a trans-Pacific flight, before being

[illegible]PANION, ALSO BAYLOR STUDENT, WAS SHOT IN SHOULDER BY TRIO

BRYAN, June 17.—(AP)—Miss Ledelle Hammond, 20, of Kosse, was killed, and Erwin Conway, 21, of Bryan, her escort, was wounded when they were shot down nine miles north of here last night while driving here to announce their engagement.

Miss Hammond was shot once through the heart. Conway was shot through the shoulder and his condition is not considered serious.

Conway told officers that he and Miss Hammond had reached an underpass nine miles north of here on Highway No. 6 when he saw a car parked by the side of the road.

A minute later his headlights picked up the figure of a woman by the car and she waved at him.

"I stopped the car and she came up towards us," Conway said. "She had on what seemed to be a brown dress.

"As she neared the car two men came out of the darknes. One got on each side of the car.

"The window was down on Ledelle's side and the man just reached in without a word and opened fire with a pistol. She gave a gasp and sagged down at my side.

"It was kind of chilly last night and I had my coat on to keep warm. I guess they might have thought she was a man."

The youth said that the other man then demanded his money, all the time menacing him with a pistol.

"I opened the door to reach for my pocketbook," he said. "The man on my side wrenched the door open and hit me on the head with his pistol. He reached in my pockets so violently that he tore them loose.

Dragged Out and Shot.

"The blow on my head sort of [illegible] me and I sagged against the seat. The man grabbed me, [illegible] me out of the car and shot me in the shoulder.

"Then he flung me back in the car and they ran for the machine parked by the road. It looked to me like a small pick-up truck."

Bleeding profusely from the wound in his shoulder, Conway said he managed to get the car started and started to drive to [illegible].

"I put my arm around Ledelle," he said. "She had sagged way down in the seat and her clothes were covered with blood. I tried to drive as fast as I could and my shoulder hurt badly."

The youth did not know that his fiance had been dead almost from the minute the bullet tore through her heart.

He was able to give only a meager description of the trio and did not know in which direction they fled.

Truck Driver Robbed

WACO, June 17.—(AP)—Guy Miller, a truck driver held up south of Bryan by a man answering the description of one of those who killed Miss Ledell Hammond, told Waco police today that the man was about six feet tall, weighed about 160 pounds, was of dark complexion, had black hair and used a .45 calibre automatic pistol.

The robber car was a light truck. The robber took $1.15 but returned 15 cents and then hit him on the head with a pistol. Miller said he saw two other persons in the truck but did not get their descriptions.

SHERIFF PEVEHOUSE PLANS ACTIVE FIGHT ON ILLICIT STILLS IN NAVARRO COUNTY

"They are not going to run over Navarro county if I can help it."

That was the statement of Rufus Pevehouse, genial and popular Navarro county sheriff who is serving his third term, the first third term sheriff in 50 years, when queried relative to the apparent moving into Navarro county of a number of illicit whiskey stills from adjoining counties.

Underworld gossip and grapevine information garnered from numerous sources, officers and otherwise, tend to indicate that many of the larger whiskey "big shot" makers are moving into Navarro county following the confiscation of several "pots" in Freestone county during the past several years under the constant raiding and hammering of Sheriff Jim Sessions.

Sheriff Pevehouse and his deputies have seized several "pots" recently, and frankly admit there is more whiskey being manufactured in Navarro county than has been in years.

Some Are "Big Shots"

Some of the operators are "big shots" who have evaded the toils of the law for years, according to well-informed circles, and despite federal and county efforts to wipe out the "pots," continue to operate.

Information has been gleamed that the "pots" are set up, one run made and then another site probably miles away is chosen for a run, well-concealed in every instance, presenting a real problem to the officers to make a successful raid while the still is in operation. In a majority of instances, the officers find the still, but wary distillers are generally gone, especially the "big shots."

Another problem that hampers the enforcement of the law against liquor is that in the present times, many persons who do not have "records" are employed and the real liquor barons are never in sight or appear where they could be connected with the traffic,—hirelings and employees doing the work and "taking the rap" if convicted.

Numerous Finds Made

That the statement made by Sheriff Pevehouse to the effect the liquor manufacturing traffic is to be combatted vigorously is borne out by the fact that within the past six days, four "pots" have been seized and five men arrested and charged by complaints with the alleged violation of the prohibition laws.

The cases against the five men were presented before the Navarro county grand jury this week, but no action had been taken when the probers recessed Thursday until next week. The cases are still under advisement and no vote has been taken.

There is a noticeable tendency during the past few years on the part of juries to be more lenient than in former years in liquor cases. Grand juries in many instances decline to return indictments, while petit juries are more lenient than the grand juries. Enforcement officials have become prone to not present many liquor cases to petit juries as their experience in former cases and circumstances clearly indicate that a jury would not vote a conviction.

Help Is Plentiful

The "higher up" in the liquor traffic do not have any apparent difficulty in securing plenty of employees to run whiskey or attend the stills.

Officers can tell when a person arrested on a liquor charge belongs to the "barons" as legal counsel and bonds appear in short order if the defendant is in "good" with the big shots.

The search warrant requirement necessitates a search warrant to enter a home, car of other property unless the searching officer has a visible or good cause to believe liquor is present, including the actual seeing of the contraband beverages.

The beer angle of the liquor traffic is more difficult to handle than the whiskey angle. There are many more beer handlers.

Before an indictment can be returned in the beer cases, samples of the malt drink must be analyzed by a graduate chemist to determine the alcoholic content. Under the Dean law, the Texas dry measure, beer containing more than one percent alcohol is intoxicating. Many beer indictments have been returned but no one has been sent to the penitentiary in years, juries declining to convict in practically all instances.

The commissioners court several years ago stopped the payment of the costs of analyzing beer with the statement that there were not sufficient convictions to warrant the money expended.

Enforcement Is Difficult

Enforcement of the liquor laws is made more difficult, according to enforcement officers, due to the tendency of many persons declining to send defendants to the penitentiary when sitting on petit juries, and also to the hesitancy of a large percent of the citizens to become "messed up in liquor cases" as witnesses, etc. Many will not report liquor violations due to their dislike of being hailed before the grand and petit juries as witnesses in trials, and in many instances, fear of reprisals cause silence.

The job of enforcing the liquor statutes is made more difficult by the apparent turning of sentiment in favor of a liberalization of the prohibition laws in Texas, along with the proposed modifying of the regulations, especially with reference to 3.2 beer.

There were not many stills in operation in Navarro county, officers say, prior to the intensive raiding inaugurated a few years ago by Sheriff Sessions in Freestone county, although Navarro county has been on the route of the hauling a large percentage of the Dallas liquor supply from the south for years.

In the meantime, Sheriff Pevehouse and his deputies will continue to conduct the raids as has been the case since the prohibition laws went into effect.

The sheriff states the stills will not be allowed to operate unmolested.

PROCESSING TAXES WILL BE LEVIED ON FLOUR ON JULY 1ST

By ROY F. HENDRICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—Maximum processing taxes will be levied beginning early in July on all wheat ground into flour by American mills.

To finance efforts to reduce the nation's production, these taxes will be about 30 cents a bushel on the basis of the present relation between current and pre-war prices. They will be higher if wheat declines in price; lower if it increases. Secretary Wallace will fix the tax within a short time and hopes to keep it as stable as possible. It will become effective between July 1 and 15.

In his first major exercise of powers under the new farm act, Wallace will ask farmers of the wheat belt to agree to reduce their acreages for harvest in 1934 and 1935 by as much as 20 per cent. In return he will offer them cash bonuses, and he plans to distribute $150,000,000 of these, most of it by September 15.

Outlining his program yesterday, Wallace was confident. He expressed strong faith in his plans for applying the act which President Roosevelt has described as "frankly experimental in nature." Some details remain to be determined but in another month Wallace expects administrative activity will be in full swing.

Today he planned to announce his cotton program which calls for acreage reduction of the crop now growing and levying of maximum processing taxes, amounting to 4 cents a pound.

Based on Allotment Plan

The wheat plan is based on the voluntary domestic allotment plan. The exact amount of acreage reduction will be determined after negotiations have been completed at the world wheat conference at London.

Wallace said the program provides the United States with machinery to fulfill any international agreement for acreage reduction that may be made at London, but in case the conferences fail to reach an agreement, a separate reduction program will be employed in this country.

Take Five Year Average

The plan contemplates fixing allotments of wheat to reach state and county in the wheat areas, on the basis of average production in the last five years. Each farmers' allotment within that will be based on his production for the last three years.

If a farmer agrees to reduce his acreage in line with the amount Wallace specifies, he will be paid two-thirds of his bonus in cash. The other third will be paid after evidence of fulfillment as to acreage planted this fall or next spring. The actual amount of this bonus remains to be determined.

The plan contemplates no interference with the free marketing of wheat. Special efforts to market surpluses will be made, Wallace said, particularly by cooperation with existing agencies to facilitate export movement, partially also in relief channels such as the Red Cross.

TABLES REVERSED AS GUNMEN SLAIN IN POLICE TRAP

CHICAGO, June 17.—(AP)—The tables were reversed on two fugitive alleged gunman when they walked into a police trap and were shot dead without firing a single bullet themselves.

The men were: John Holland, 25, who walked out of the county jail under mysterious circumstances three weeks ago, and Cecil Neal, 22, who vanished similarly from a court room last Tuesday and forfeited an $8,000 bond. Their disappearances had led to an investigation by the state's attorney.

The shooting occurred last night in the home of Robert Ozark shortly after police said two youths had informed them Holland and Neal intended robbing Ozark of $3,000 they believed he had hidden in his home.

Hurrying to the Ozark home in a private automobile police explained their mission and secreted themselves in the apartment after warning neighbors, who gathered with their arrival, to remain indoors.

They said they did not have long to wait as their prey soon appeared approaching in the alley. Arriving at the back door, they were met by Ozark and Neal, drawing a pistol, ordered him to throw up his hands.

At that moment, in full view of neighbors who watched from windows, the police stepped forward and began firing. One bullet accidentally wounded three-year-old Elaine Mack when it brazed her left knee as she stepped into the line of fire.

Holland and Neal with another man were indicted for robbery in the hijacking of a tobacco truck last December and released on bond.

CHANGES MADE IN VETERANS PAYMENTS ALL WAR ANNOUNCED

MUCH DEPENDS ON EXECUTIVE INTERPRETATION NEW COMPENSATION LAWS

WASHINGTON, June 16. (AP)—Veterans' aid changes made by congress this session will depend much on executive orders yet to be issued interpreting the newly-made compensation laws.

In general, cuts will be made along the following lines, according to the best information of veterans' authorities.

Mexican war:

No soldiers living. Widows pensions of $50 monthly cut 10 per cent.

Civil War:

Soldiers pensions, service, $75, disability, $90, cut 10 per cent. Widows $30, $40 and $50 monthly, cut 10 per cent.

Indian wars:

Soldiers $20 to $50 monthly, cut 10 per cent.

Spanish-American war:

Final compromise provides that all Spanish War veterans over 55 years of age, who are 50 per cent or more disabled and who are in need, shall remain on the rolls at a basic rate of $15 a month.

Since the basis of what constituted "need" is to be determined by the President, the entire status of the Spanish War Veterans' situation depends upon the executive order.

Rice W. Means, chairman of the national legislative committee of Spanish war veterans, estimated that if all now on the rolls listed as 50 per cent or more per cent disabled are retained, about two-thrids of the Spanish War veterans will continue to receive compensation.

It will range from $15 to $100 a month, instead of from $20 to $72 as before the economy act.

Means estimated about a thousand totally disabled Spanish war veterans would receive more than before the passage of the act, all the rest less, the average cut being about 60 per cent, and from 60,000 to 65,000 names to be dropped entirely.

World War:

Whereas the first regulations issued by the President under the economy act cut the average veteran's pay from $44,16 to $20.10, the final compromise guarantees that no service-connected case will be cut more than 25 per cent and the average only 18 per cent.

The economy act regulation cut all presumptives from the rolls, while the compromise sets up reviewing boards to pass on whether or not their injuries were really war-connected, and pending such decision, continues them on the rolls until October 31 instead of cutting them off July 1.

Neuro-Psychiatric diseases, if developed within a year from the close of the war, are made presumptive, and tuberculosis, if within two years.

The rate of $30 a month for a widow, and $6 for each child, of presumptives and service-connected cases was restored, whereas under the economy act orders, widows were to have been cut to $20, with $4 for each child.

Non-service connected cases were wiped from the rolls entirely except for the totally, permanently, disabled. The flat $20 a month they were to have received under the economy act was raised

DOZEN PROBES SET IN MOTION DURING CONGRESS RECESS

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—Adjourning, congress set in motion a round dozen of investigations to be carried on during the coming months, most notable that in which the whole structure of federal tax law is to be restudied.

The Ways and Means committee of the house will do this job, inspired by disclosures of the J. P. Morgan and company investigation which showed loop-holes in the income tax law and bestirred members to seek out ways of redistributing the tax load.

It will not get really under way until November, ready to report to the January session.

The Wall Street investigation itself will go on, with the senate Banking committee on June 26 delving deeper into private banking, tackling affairs of Kuhn, Loeb and company first.

The same day a senate judiciary subcommittee will resume the hearings in New York on delay in the prosecution of Joseph W. Harriman, New York banker, accused of falsifying records.

Within a few weeks, a special senate committee will go down to Louisiana to resume its consideration of the contest against the election of Senator Overton (D-La.,) in which Senator Long (D-La.,) has been a prominent figure.

Racketeering Probe.

A commerce sub-committee of the senate is beginning work immediately under Senator Copeland (D., N. Y.) to investigate racketeering in the big cities, with particular reference to interstate operations.

Another senate committee, headed by Wagner (D. N. Y.) will meet within a day or two to plan inquiring into labor conditions on the Missisippi flood control project.

Another charged with an investigation of bankruptcy and receivership proceedings in federal courts, has decided to postpone its work until fall, meeting in Los Angeles October 11.

The house judiciary committee will delve into bankruptcy and receivership practices of the federal courts, while other groups will go into operation of the civil service laws and study more abount postal receipts, airmail and ocean mail subsidies.

ATTEMPT TO RELEASE MAIL TRAIN ROBBER COSTS FIVE LIVES

MURDEROUS FIRE POURED INTO OFFICERS AT KANSAS CITY UNION STATION

KANSAS CITY, June 17.—(AP)—Four officers were slain by machine gun fire and another was wounded in front of the Union Station here today by gunmen who apparently sought to effect the release of Frank Nash, Oklahoma mail train robber being returned to Leavenworth federal prison.

Nash, one of the few surviving members of the Al Spencer gang of train robbers, also died in the hail of bullets.

The killers fled in one or more automobiles after pouring a murderous fire into a parked car which the officers and their prisoner were boarding just south of the east door of the station.

The dead:

Frank Nash, the federal convict being returned to Leavenworth.

Raymond J. Caffrey, agent of the bureau of investigation.

W. J. "Red" Grooms, city detective of Kansas City.

Frank Hermanson, city detective of Kansas City.

Otto Reed, chief of police of McAlester, Okla.

The wounded:

F. J. Lackey, agent of the federal bureau of investigation.

Accounts differed as to the number of men in the killers' party. One eye witness said he saw only two men. Another reported the firing came from two automobiles, and some officers expressed the belief four men were involved.

Two Federal Officers.

Frank Smith, investigator for the department of justice; Lackey and Reed arrived at the station shortly after 7 a. m., with Nash, captured yesterday in Hot Springs, Ark. Nash escaped from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth in 1930.

They were met by R. E. Vetterli, chief of the United States Bureau of Investigation for Kansas and western Missouri; Raymond J. Caffrey, an investigator for the bureau; Grooms and Hermanson.

The seven escorted Nash, handcuffed, through the station to Caffrey's car, waiting outside and across the street near the parking lot.

Three of the officers and Nash died on the spot. Caffrey died in a hospital. Lackey was wounded. Smith and Vetterli escaped.

The assailants fled west, but eluded police cars which rushed to the scene.

Had Planned to Drive.

The officers had planned to drive to Leavenworth with the prisoner rather than wait for a train.

All the dead were shot in the head.

One taxicab driver, near the head of the line of cars moving up to receive passengers at the station entrance, said his first impression was that somebody had set off firecrackers.

"A woman came dodging around the car," he said. "I asked what was the matter and she said, I'm trying to get out of the way of those bullets.'

"Then I saw the officers falling and some of them firing from machine guns as they fell. I also saw the car at the curb with its windows shattered by gunfire and the figure of Nash, his head rolled back over the back of the front seat of the car and very bloody."

Vetterli, who received a slight wound as bullets tore through his clothing, said the firing sounded as though it came from four submachine guns, but added that he could not be certain of the number of assailants.

Opened Fire Without Warning.

"Just as we started to get in Caffreys' car in front of the station, they opened up on us with sub-machine guns," Vetterli said. "I don't know how many machine guns were opened up on us, but there was more than one. It sounded like four to me but I don't know positively.

"All I know is that they were hidden behind cars and opened up on us. They killed Nash first. The bullets were flying so thick about us by then that I don't know who went next."

Windows in the station were broken and bullet marks were left on the front of the big stone structure.

There was consternation among the large crowd of travelers.

"My God," asked one man as he stepped out of the station, "is this Chicago?"

Says Four Men in Party.

Mike Fanning, a motorcycle officer, who rushed from the station said he fired three times with his pistol at the slayers' car as it was pulling away. He said some of the men were still shooting from the running board. He said he was certain there were four men in the automobile.

Fanning related that he took "deliberate aim and cracked down on them before they were out of range," but did not know whether his shots took effect.

Charles Moore, taxi driver, reported he was in his cab only a few feet away when he saw some men standing on the running board of one automobile fire into another machine.

"I am certain there were four men in the party," he said. "One of the men near the car being fired upon ran around his automobile and from the rear began to fire on the attackers with a pump gun. These men continued to fire into the car and drove away as Mike Fanning appeared and began deliberately firing into the moving car.

Slayers Park Car.

Fanning and Moore agreed the officer returning the fire with a pump gun was Vetterli. They expressed belief that the slayers' car parked close to the officers' machine and the men sat there until Nash was placed in the car.

W. H. Pemberton, a "red cap," was standing on the sidewalk in front of the station when the attack took place.

"I am absolutely certain at least one of the men who attacked the officers was on foot, and armed with what I later decided was a sub-machine gun," Pemberton said. "The man was holding the gun out in front of him and firing almost against the body of one of the officers who was getting into Caffrey's car.

"I was putting an invalid in a taxicab when I noticed a group of men walk across the platform into the street toward some parked automobiles," Pemberton went on.

Pretty Boy Mentioned.

"Someone said 'That doesn't look like him' and someone else asked, 'Like who?'

"'Pretty Boy Floyd,' was the answer," Pemberton said.

"That made me look closely at the man they were talking about.

"Some of the officers got in the right hand side of their car and at least one walked around the car to get in the left side.

"I looked away at that moment and then heard a shot. When I looked back, I saw fighting going on at close range beside the car.

"One of the men was firing at another one with mhat I believe now must have been a sub-machine gun. He was standing within a foot of the man he was shooting. Bullets began whipping around me and I ran into the station.

Too Much Shooting.

"I couldn't be certain whether there were two men on foot attacking or just one. My attention was attracted by the fight on the ground so I couldn't tell anything about the automobiles or automobiles the attackers used, and I dont' know where they went after the fight because I went into the station to get away from the bullets."

At the hospital it was reported that Agent Lackey suffered three bullet wounds in the back.

Moore and Fanning said they were positive the attackers use only one automobile. They said the car, which had been parked on a cinder runway in the plaza across the street from the station, pulled away with machine guns still blazing. Fanning fired three times at the fleeing assailants.

By ROBERT FRITTS
Cab Starter, Kansas City Union Station

KANSAS CITY, June 17.—(AP)—I guess I saw all of the shooting.

I was calling and starting cabs on the wide sidewalk in front of the east entrance of the station. The officers and their prisoner come out of the entrance and passed me, crossing the street directly in front of me. There were five men with the prisoner. Frank Nash (I learned who it was later) was handcuffed.

They went straight to the car parked across the street and Nash climbed in first. As soon as he seated himself, he raised both his hands in the air. It looked like a signal.

At that moment the gunfire broke loose. It came from two men over in the pasking lot opposite the station and beyond Nash. They seemed to be firing with a machine gun over his head.

The officers were mowed down by the fire. As they crumpled, some of them returned the fire.

I don't know who got Nash. One of our cabs was in front of me. Its driver went down. I thought he was shot. He had merely ducked out of range.

Then I saw the two men who had opened fire dash for a car. It looked like a Reo car. So far as I could tell, there were only two men. I did not see anyone at the wheel of the car.

They jumped in and roared out of the lot and away.

I could not tell how old they were. I cannot give a good description of them, but they wore dark suits and caps.

I saw a man pick up some gun shells on this side of the car Nash was in, out in the street. They must have come from the officers' guns.

Federal Resources Ready.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—The United States bureau of investigation today mobilized its agents for an intensive search for the men who killed Special Agent Raymond J. Caffrey, and three other officers in Kansas City.

Reports to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau, indicated the officers took unusual precautions to prevent the thing which happened.

Nation In Manhunt.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings today ordered every law enforcement agency under his command into the quest for the gangsters who took part in the Kansas City shooting this morning.

Additional justice department agents were ordered immediately to the scene of the kiling. The attorney general considers the slaying a direct defiance of the government.

While Cummings was keeping in close touch with the situation himself, the chief of the bureau of investigation, J. Edgar Hoover, was actively directing the search.

Furnished Information.

M'ALESTER, Okla., June 17.—(AP)—Friends of Police Chief Otto Reed, killed in the gun battle at Kansas City today, said he furnished the information that led to the capture of Frank Nash, fugitive train robber, also slain in the fight.

They said Reed learned Nash was hiding at Hot Springs, Ark., and informed federal authorities. As a result, Nash was captured in the resort city yesterday. Reed assisted in the capture and accompanied federal operatives with Nash to Kansas City.

Reed had been a peace officer since statehood, becoming police chief three years ago. He leaves his widow and three children.

Mother Saves Daughter.

KANSAS CITY, June 17.—(AP)—An unwilling sumbission to her mother's plea to accompany her inside the Union station today spared Miss Parnie Millikan, 21, from the fusillade of shots that killed an outlaw and four officers.

The two had driven to the station to meet Miss Millikan's aunt. When the girl said she would remain outside in their parked car, the mother, Mrs. Amanda Millikan insisted her daughter come inside because "there are two doors to watch and I might not be able to watch both of them."

The daughter agreed and accompanied her mother inside.

After the shooting, the Millikans found their car had been in the line of fire. There were bullet holes in the body, cowl and hood.

Nash Was Last of Notorious Gang

KANSAS CITY, June 17.—(AP)—Frank Nash, train robber who with a federal agent and three police officers was killed by gunmen when they arrived at the Union station here today from Hot Springs, Ark., was the last of the notorious Al Spencer gang of desperadoes that long had terrorized the Southwest.

F. J. Lackey, Oklahoma City, agent of the federal bureau of investigation, who with R. J. Caffrey, federal agent, and Otto Reed, chief of police of McAlester, Okla., was returning Nash to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., said he had been trailing Nash three years.

Caffrey and Reed were killed by the slayers' bullets, as were W. J. (Red) Grooms, and Frank Hermanson, Kansas City detectives.

Lackey is in a hospital here in a critical condition with bullet wounds in the back.

Escaped in 1930.

Nash, federal officers said, escaped from the federal prison at Leavenworth in October, 1930. He was serving a 25-year sentence for robbing a mail train at Okesa, Okla., August 20, 1923. This robbery, officers said, was engineered by Spencer woh was killed by federal agents afterward in the Osage hills near Bartlesville, Okla.

Nash was said by officers to have been Spencer's lieutenant in the train robbery. He was captured at Sierra Blanca, on the Mexican border, Sept. 9, 1923.

Nash was wanted for participation in the robbery of the bank of Gentry, Ark., in April, 1923, of which Spencer was the reputed leader.

Officers also had been seeking him for questioning in connection with the prison break at the Leavenworth penitentiary in December, 1931. In that break Thomas B. White, then warden, was kidnapped and wounded by seven escaping convicts.

Implicated in Break.

White was used as a shield by the convicts. Three of the convicts killed themselves when they were trapped by officers in a farmhouse on the outskirts of Leavenworth and four were recaptured.

Officers said they believed Nash was implicated in the prison break and that he aided Harold Fontaine, a former convict who was convicted of sending firearms for the seven prisoners into the prison in a barrel of shoe polish. Fontaine is serving a 20-year sentence in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga.

Thomas J. Higgins, chief of Kansas City detectives, said he believed the shooting today was intended to obtain release of Nash by some of his friends. He said he believed the plot was planned by Harvey Bailey, a close friend of Nash, who escaped from the Kansas state penitentiary at Lansing, Kans., Memorial Day.

Higgins said, however, he did not believe Bailey actually participated in the shooting.

GOVERNMENT'S [illegible] TOWARD RECOVERY IS ALREADY UNDER WAY

ROOSEVELT CALLS FOR AGGRESSIVE PUBLIC TO SUPPORT PLAN

WASHINGTON, Jun[illegible] —(AP)—The governm[illegible] drive for national reco[illegible] through vast new pow[illegible] conferred by legislation [illegible] under way today, the ro[illegible] ahead pointed out by President Roosevelt in a call for aggressive public support.

Administrators of the many-angled federal war on depression went straight ahead to execute final orders given by their chief who, after clearing the decks for action last night, left for a quick vacation. July 1 he will be back for personal direction of the great enterprise.

His last instructions made sure the start would not be delayed for his return.

Hugh Johnson was given formal appointment as director of the industrial control plan, and a cabinet committee was designated to aid him in passing immediately on voluntary co-operative codes to be submitted by the major industries for production and employment control.

Colonel Donal H. Sawyer, chairman of the federal employment stabilization board, was similiarly assigned director of the public works program and told to go ahead, to get $100,000,000 worth of new buildings under contract by October, the first batch of $25,000,000 to be let in 45 days. Also ordered released were first funds from the $400,000,000 grants for state highways. An official "O. K." was put on the navy's $238,000,000 building plan.

Similarly, under the agriculture marketing law, Secretary Wallace was given the go-ahead sign, to impose processing taxes on wheat to curtail production of next year's crops. The levies will be imposed on flour beginning in July.

Eastman Rail Co-ordinator.

Joseph B. Eastman, outstanding member of the I. C. C. was assigned federal co-ordinator of railroads. He announced himself on the job, but said difficulties in the way would keep actual achievement of marked economies from being registered immediately.

At the same time the re-organization of the commerce department, by consolidation of Marine and aviation activities into one division was forwarded by appointment of Ewing Y. Mitchell, Springfield, Missouri, assistant secretary. He was given a new staff to direct the job.

By all these last minute steps, accompanied by a public statement outlining minutely the ideas which will animate the [illegible] tration of the national [illegible] act, President Roosevelt [illegible] that the capital would remai[illegible] vanized in his absence, that [illegible] would be none of the custo[illegible] post-congress let-down to [illegible] governmental activity into a [illegible] mery snail pace.

No Rubberstamping.

With all the emphasis on speed the executive nevertheless warned administrators strongly against rubberstamping and railroading through the submitted industrial codes, asserting the industrial law with its relaxation of anti-trust law safeguards constituted a definite challenge to administration, which must protect the public against abuses and protect co-operating industries against selfish ones and racketeers.

He urged business itself, as "good economics," to forego quick profits by letting wage increases swell the purchasing power and increase the volume of sales before prices are moved up.

"We cannot," he said, "hope for the full effect of this plan unless, in these first, critical months, and, even at the expense of full initial profits, we defer price increases as long as possible. If we can thus start a strong upward spiral of business activity our industries will have little doubt of black-ink operation in the last quarter of this year."

ROOSEVELT SENDS LETTERS OF THANKS SENATE AND HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—Congress has "proved that our form of government can rise to an emergency and can carry through a broad program in record time."

President Roosevelt put that statement in a special letter, addressed to Vice President Gardner and Speaker Rainey for the membership of senate and house, which was read to them early this morning, at adjournment. Its text (the house letter is given, the senate's was identical):

My Dear Mr. Speaker:

Before the adjournment of the special session, I want to convey to you and to the members of the house of representatives an expression of my thanks for making possible, on the broad average, a more sincere and whole-hearted co-operation between the legislative and the executive [illegible] of the United States [illegible] than has been witn[illegible] by the American people [illegible] a long year.

This spirit of tea[illegible] most cases transc[illegible] lines. It has taken [illegible] a crisis in the affairs [illegible] tion and of the world [illegible] grasped the need for a [illegible] proach to problems both [illegible] old. It has proved that our [illegible] of government can rise to an emergency and can carry through a broad program in record time.

I am certain that the American people are appreciative of the work of this special session of the seventy-third congress.

Please let me add that the past few months have given to me very special pleasure in the renewal of old friendships and the forming of new friendships among the house of representatives. To each and every one of you I send My best wishes for a well-deserved and happy holiday during the coming months.

Very sincerely yours,
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

ROOSEVELT TAKES COMMAND INDUSTRY UNDER NEW MEASURE

SAYS MOST FAR-REACHING LEGISLATION IN HISTORY OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, June 16. (AP)—President Roosevelt took command over the nation's industry today as he signed the powerful industrial supervision bill.

He also made law the Glass-Steagall bank reform-deposit insurance measure, devoting the main part of his time through the day to the formal approval of several vast measures enacted in the closing days of the extra session.

As keystone of the Roosevelt recovery porgram, the industrial bill—which also provides for a $3,300,000,000 public works plan—was signed just before noon at a brief ceremony attended by the leaders of congress who guided the measure to enactment.

Soon afterward he signed the railroad reorganization measure designed to place the nation's rail lines in better order.

Determined to put the industrial act into quick operation in order to put thousands to work and to reorganize working conditions in the interests of shorter hours and higher wages, the president summoned administrators to his side.

Hugh S. Johnson, who has taken care of the preliminary arrangements for the broad federal machinery to put it into effect, was on hand with the president.

The industrial control bill was signed with a statement asking wholehearted cooperation of "industry, labor and every citizen of the nation."

The president termed it the "most important and far-reaching legislation" congress has ever enacted.

"Its goal," he said, "is the assurance of a reasonable profit to industry and living wages for labor with the elimination of the piratical methods and practices which have not only harassed honest busines sbut also contributed to the ills of labor."

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt in signing the industrial control-public works bill today described it as the "most important and far-reaching legislation ever enacted by the American congress."

In a formal statement he asked the "wholehearted co-operation of industry, labor and every citizen of the nation."

His statement follows:

"History probably will record the national industrial recovery act as the most important and far-reaching legislation ever enacted by the American congress.

"It represents a supreme effort to stabilize for all time the many factors which make for the prosperity of the nation, and the preservation of American standards. Its goal is the assurance of a reasonable profit to industry and living wages for labor with the elimination of the piratical methods and practices which have not only harassed honest business but also contributed to the ills of labor.

"While we are engaged in establishing new foundations for business which ultimately should open a return to work for large numbers of men, it is our hope through the so-called public works section of the law to speedily initiate a program of public construction that should early re-employ additional hundreds of thousands of men.

"Obviously, if this project is to succeed, it demands the wholehearted co-operation of industry, labor and every citizen of the nation."

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today signed the Texas Centennial coinage bill authorizing half-dollar coins in celebration of the hundredth anniversary of Texas' independence.

He gave the pen used in signing the bill to Senator Tom Connally, who advocated the legislation.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today completed signature of all the major bills sent to him by the extra session of congress, by affixing his name to the $3,600,000,000 appropriation measure for public works.

The final bills which he signed late in the day also included the $600,000,000 appropriation for independent offices, carrying disputed funds for veterans compensation allowances; the measure continuing for another year the gasoline tax and reducing postal rates; the farm credit administration bill and the District of Columbia appropriation measure.

PLENTIFUL SCORING IN SUNDAY GAME ON GARRETT DIAMOND

Led by Larruping Joe Farmer, who walloped two hits out of the park, the Corsicana Independent baseball team made 16 runs in a game with Garret Sunday afternoon. But that was not enough. Garrett made 17 runs in the abbreviated game which was called at the end of the seventh inning on account of darkness. Corsicana got 11 hits and Garrett 13, for a total of 24 in the game and this was almost equaled by errors, Corsicana being credited with 11 and Garrett 5.

MIGHTY LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM IS CARRIED OUT FOR RECOVERY

FINAL ACT WAS ACCEPTANCE ROOSEVELT TERMS ON VETERANS PAYMENTS

WASHINGTON, June 16. (AP)—The seventy-third congress, carver of a mighty legislative program for national recovery, adjourned at 1:21 o'clock this morning, after chalking up a final notable victory for the President.

Its last act was accepting of his terms on expenditures for veterans, thus safeguarding the President's economy program which lops off hundreds of millions in achieve balance of the ordinary budget.

The senate fought to the last the same fight that had held up adjournment since last Saturday, but blocked by the utter refusal of the house to accept an enlargement of spending for ex-soldiers, it gave in, voted 45 to 36 to take the compromise offered by the administration, approved the $650,000,000 independent offices appropriation bill and adjourned.

The house, that had lingered idly through the night quit, too, after cheering and yelling applause at the last minute letter from the President.

In it he thanked senators and representatives "for making possible, on the broad average, a more sincere and whole-hearted co-operation between the legislative and executive branches of the United States government than has been witnessed by the American people in many a long year."

Record Has No Parallel.

That modest sentence covered a record which has no parallel in American history: Every major request by the President, some for power greater than ever granted an executive in peace time and perhaps in war, had been granted. The congress had stuck almost exclusively to the President's own program. It had done its work with unexampled speed, adjourning within a week of the date on which he proposed that it go home, and that despite a gruelling fight on the isue that has smashed all economy programs in the past—funds for veterans.

This last fight brought harsh words to the senate even in the closing hour. The debate had been concluded, the compromise accepted and the last bill passed when Senator Glass (D-Va) took the floor to denounce what he called "a wanton and unprovoked attack" on himself by Bronson Cutting, independent Republican of New Mexico, who earlier in the night had given Glass a tongue lashing for his part in the final conference agreement on the veterans issue.

Adjournment Voted.

When Glass was done, adjournment was voted and the echoing capitol chambers of debate were closed until next January.

Many of the members already were homeward bound to pick up their long delayed home plans. Others stuck around to take part in governmental conferences for execution of the bills they have passed. Some planned to attend the president's signing of the last notable bills; the industrial control bill, the Glass bank reform act and the railroad reorganization measure.

Adjournment found undone only a few tasks. The administration bill to make possible naming of a mainland governor for Hawaii died under the threat of a filibuster by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) Senate resolutions to block the President's $25,000,000 saving progam for bureau reorganization were left to die unconsidered by the house.

Relief for municipalities in default on their securities was also lost through failure of the senate to pass on the bill. Side-tracked earlier had been the President's request for power to impose embargoes on arms and munition shipments to warring countries.

MAGNOLIA DEFEATED BARDWELL SUNDAY BY OVERWHELMING SCORE

Magnolia defeated Bardwell 11 to 3 Sunday before the largest crowd that has witnessed a ball game here this season The game was played on the new Magnolia diamond and the Oilers had little trouble subduing the highly touted Bardwell club.

Next Sunday the Magnolia team plays the Hunt Oil company team at Overton and on July 4 they play the Cliff Temple team of Dallas, a double header here. The Cliff Temple team was state champions last year.

In the game with Bardwell Sunday every member of the Magnolia team except Regan, catcher and Robinson, pitcher, got two hits and every man except Regan and Seals made a run

Robinson pitched steady ball and kept the 7 hits by Bardwell well scattered.

Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse returned from Bellville, Austin county, late Thursday, where he appeared as a witness in the trial of two negroes recently arrested here by him for Austin county officers.

The two negroes were tried for theft of two model T Fords and also attempted burglary. The negroes were given ten years each for the theft of the Model Ts and one was given seven and the other 12 years on the attempted burglary indictments.

The sentences were not run concurrently, Sheriff Pevehouse said, with one negro facing 22 years and the other 17 years.

Local Postage Rate At 2 Cents July 1

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—A drop in the local postage rate from 3 to 2 cents will go into effect on July 1.

The change recently enacted also gives the President authority to make a general reduction in postal rates if he finds business conditions warrants that action. The drop in the local rate will be watched by officials to see what effect it has on the postal revenues. It may be applied generally.

Get Rid of Malaria!

Banish Chills and Fever!

To conquer Malaria, you must do two things. (1) Destroy the infection in the blood. (2) Build up the blood to overcome the effects and to fortify against further attack. There is one medicine that does these two things and that is Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic! The tasteless quinine in Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic destroys the malarial infection in the blood while the iron builds up the blood. Thousands of people have conquered Malaria with the aid of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. In addition to being a noted remedy for Malaria, it is also an excellent tonic of general use. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is pleasant to take and contains nothing harmful. Even children like it and they can take it safely. For sale by all stores.

SHORTER HOURS FOR INDUSTRY AT LIVING WAGE IS EMPHASIZED

MAIN PURPOSE INDUSTRIAL CONTROL BILL IS TO PUT PEOPLE BACK TO WORK

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—President Roosevelt intends to put all the immediate emphasis of the industrial control program on reduction of working hours with payment of a "living wage" for the shortened labor week.

This purpose was indicated clearly in a public statement issued just before starting on his New England vacation, in which he coupled the declaration that the bill's purpose was "to put people back to work," with an urgent request that industry forego quick profits and devote itself to increasing the country's purchasing power before raising prices.

Limitation of working hours and job spreading is to be an integral part of the industrial codes under which the government will let related businesses cooperate without interference from the anti-trust laws. Eventually the President said he wants to use the law "to plan for a better future" but the first, emergency job is going to be "to get many hundreds of thousands of the unemployed bask on the payroll by snowfall."

"The idea is simply," he continued, "for employers to hire more men to do the existing work by reducing the work-hours of each man's week and at the same time paying a living wage for the shorter week."

Whether a basic 30-hour week, as proposed by an earlier law considered by congress, will be used as a yard-stick by the government in passing upon the codes submitted for its approval, he did not indicate, leaving this to be unfolded in the practical application of the law.

Urges Co-Operation.

He called strongly for public co-operation.

"There is no power in America that can force against the public such action as we require. But there is no group in America that can withstand the force of an aroused public opinion. This great co-operation can succeed only if those who bravely go forward to restore jobs have aggressive public support and those who lag are made to feel the full weight of public disapproval."

He termed the whole novel program a challenge to the country. Specifically he saw a challenge to industry—"which has long insisted that, given the right to act in unison, it could do much for the general good which has hitherto been unlawful. From today it has that right."

He professed no misgivings over the outcome of this "new charter" but warned industry against slackers within its ranks "who may stand in the path of our common purpose."

He warned too "that the anti-trust laws still stand firmly," to block any trade restraint or price fixing which allows inordinate profits or unfairly high prices.

To labor, the President issued a special call for co-operation: "This is not a law to foment discord and it will not be executed as such. This is a time for mutual confidence and help, and we can safely rely on the sense of fair play among all Americans to assure everv industry which now moves forward promptly in this united drive against depression that its workers will be with it to a man."

Of increasing prices he said he recognized that boosted wages would have to eventually raise costs, but that if prices keep pace with the rise of wages the whole project will be useless, for it depends upon a well-stimulated growth of public purchasing power, demand for goods.

"If we can thus start a strong sound upward spiral of business activity our industries will have little doubt of black-ink operations in the last quarter of this year."

MEMBERS OF CONGRESS NOT ELIGIBLE AS DELEGATES TO TEXAS REPEAL CONVENTION

VOTERS MAY FORCE ELECTIONS ON BEER LEGALIZATION IDEA

AUSTIN, June 17.—(AP)—A group of qualified voters of a county may force a local option election on authorizing the manufacture and sale of beverages containing not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol, the attorney general's department has ruled.

Elbert M. Hooper, first assistant attorney general, held that commissioners' courts could not be required to hold the election before that date, although the court could on its own motion, order the question submitted any time after July 7. An election could be called on petition of 10 per cent of the voters in counties of less than 5,000 population and on petition of 500 qualified voters in counties of greater than 5,000 popilation.

A proposed amendment to the constitution to authorize the manufacture and sale of 3.2 alcoholic beverages will be submitted to popular vote August 26. Sentiment on ratification to repeal of the eighteenth amendment also will be tested at the election.

Hooper construed in detail the local option question. In effect, he ruled that both counties and their political subdivisions maintained the status they were in prior to constitutional prohibition. If a county, city, town or precinct was dry prior to constitutional prohibition, it would remain dry until it affirmatively voted wet.

Fairfield Youth Died Saturday

FAIRFIELD, June 17.—(Spl.)—Howard Mallard, aged 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mallard, near Fairfield, died Saturday following a protracted illness. Burial was in Lake Chapel cemetery Sunday afternoon, the Rev. H. L. McKissack officiating.

He is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters.

AUSTIN, June 16.—(AP)—The attorney general's department has ruled that a member of the national congress cannot serve as a delegate to the Texas convention of November 24 when this state's attitude toward repeal of national prohibition will be expressed.

John M. Mathis, in charge of the campaign of those seeking to amend the constitution to do away with prohibition, asked for the ruling.

The attorney general pointed to a provision of the law authorizing the convention set-up which directed that state, district and county office holders were ineligible to serve as delegates.

The law provided for each faction to hold a convention in Austin on June 27 to nominate delegates to be elected at a special election on August 26.

Mathis said he had been advised those opposed to repeal planned to nominate Morris Sheppard, United States senator, as one of the delegates. He advised also that it was reported both sides intended to nominate several members of the national house as delegates.

Governor Miriam A. Ferugson was empowered to name the temporary chairmen of the two nominating conventions. She picked Senator Sheppard to preside over the anti-repealists' convention and B. Y. Cummings of Fort Worth to call the repealists' convention to order.

In holding that members of congress could not act as delegates the attorney general also referred to the state constitution that "no member of congress shall be eligible to hold or exercise any office of trust under this state."

The attorney general's department said it had not been asked to rule on the eligibility of Senator Sheppard to preside at the anti-repealists' convention.

FIRST STATE BANK BUILDING WILL BE REMODELED AT ONCE

LOCATION BE OCCUPIED BY HARRIS AND JACOBS BY SEPT FIRST

Extensive improvements and repairs will be started on the First State Bank building this morning representing an outlay of several thousand dollars for the rehabilitation of the building owned by Mrs. George [illegible] according to an announcement Saturday morning.

When the building is ready Harris and Jacobs merchandisers, now housed directly across the street, will occupy the entire floor.

A new front will be installed and the building will be remodeled over, on both the first and second floors. One of the features of the changes will be the installation of the two stairways on the first floor to inside stairs. Entrance to the stairway leading to the second floor will be in a room that will be opened at the old bank room.

Lease for a term of years has been entered with Harris and Jacobs and the improvements on the building are scheduled to be completed by August 1. However, Jacobs plan to be in their new quarters not later than September 1.

A. E. Haslam is the owner of the building while H. O. Blanding is the architect.

FOUR INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION BABY BADLY HURT

Four persons were injured, one seriously, when, two automobiles collided at the intersection of West Seventh avenue and North Twentieth street about 9 o'clock Friday night.

The most seriously injured was little Jean Hardin, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Hardin, who was rushed to the T. & S. Hospital, where attendants physicians reported she was suffering from a concussion, two broken ribs, and a deep gash in the chin and another on her forehead. She was reported resting well Saturday morning.

Mrs. Hardin and another daughter received bruises and slight lacerations from the crash, but were able to leave the hospital after being given first aid.

Miss Eloise Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Allison, was taken to the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic, suffering from a deep cut that partially severed the muscles of the right forearm, and other cuts on the hand and face. She was reported resting well at the clinic Saturday and it was said she would probably be able to be moved home during the day. Paul Harshaw and Miss Dell Coulson, other occupants of the car were uninjured.

Both cars were badly damaged.

A COMPANY THIRTY YEARS OLD

Last Friday the Ford Motor Company completed 30 years of automobile making.

It is also my fortieth year at the same job. I made my first engine in 1893, and it still runs. This is the engine that won the Selden Patent Suit——which took the motor car out of the exclusive class, and opened the automobile industry to hundreds of manufacturers who started during the last 30 years.

Some of the men who began with me that June day in 1903, are working here yet. All of the principles we laid down then, are still operative; we find that they have great survival value for the future. To date they have produced and sold over 21,000,000 Ford cars.

Although we created the automobile market we have never thought it was good for anyone to monopolize it. We have always believed that before business could be good for one, it must be good for all. Our discoveries and improvements have always been open to other manufacturers without patent restrictions.

Of course, there is one thing we cannot share——everyone must get it for himself——and that is experience. Money could duplicate our buildings and machines, but it cannot duplicate 40 years of experience. And it is experience that makes a motor car.

But the past does not especially concern me; it has all been a preparation for the future. For myself, I feel that I have just been gathering the tools to do something worth while, and that my real task is still ahead.

Great changes are upon the world. False ideas of every kind are vanishing in the general upheaval. Those who built truly on principle will survive——their service will carry over. Business integrity and commodity honor will be fully justified. And newer and better ways of living will appear.

That is the outlook for this young thirty-year old Company of ours.

BROAD IMPROVEMENT

Among the most encouraging signs that the business upturn is on a solid foundation is the fact that the usual summer slump has not set it. Depite the season when trade ordinarily lags, reports show a continued upswing in activities, May wholesale buying in some instances being 50 per cent greater than it was in May of last year.

An important factor in this situation is to be found in rising prices. Merchants and others convinced that the present low levels will not be available again are laying in supplies before still higher levels are reached. Reports from the big wholesale centers reflect this condition almost without exception.

In recent years merchants have fallen into the habit of buying from hand to mouth. Only small orders were placed because of fear that prices would take a further trouble and the advantage of this decline would be used. This situation now is being reversed. Buyers are placing large lots. Stocks in most establishments are low and there is a rush to replenish these. In some centers, orders for late summer and fall goods are being placed.

Business leaders in the Southwest are especially enthusiastical in analyzing the situation. Not only is buying being done now on a large scale, but increased purchasing power for the near future is assured in the rising prices for agricultural products. After the wheat crop is harvested and marketed by the growers, the latter will have additional money for purchases.

The construction industry is picking up along with other lines. The demand for lumber is increasing, and building materials of various kinds are beginning to move in growing volume.

On the whole, the business outlook appears to be more encouraging than it has been at any time since the depression set in. All reports indicate there is a gain all along the line.

FAILURES STILL DECLINE

Among the signs of increasing industrial stability, one that deserves to be ranked among the more important is the decline in business failures.

The improvement in this respect is not a sudden spurt, but represents a steady advance which has been observable through February, March and April and still is pointing upward. According to Dun and Bradstreet's not since April, 1928, has the number of business failures been as low as they were for last April.

This development, taken in connection with the other rapidly multiplying evidences of general business improvement, is a confidence-inspiring factor. Part of the lower number of failures may be due, of course, to the fact that many weak concerns already had given up the ghost. Even though this may be true, it does not erase the value of the failures decline as an indication that industrial stabilization is under way.

The corroborative evidence in other directions gives it importance as a sign of business recovery.

Don't put all your eggs in one basket. At present prices it would bring no more than half a dollar if you did.

THE LASTING GAINS

If life be nothing more than money getting,
Then sad, indeed, are we;
And none should blame us for our constant fretting
At money poverty.

If only riches count with us, to lose them
Is life's supremest pain,
But there are those who constantly refuse them,

They seem to see beyond the petty penny
And deep within the clay
Splendors worth claiming and achievements many
The soul may bear away.

They deal with kindness and they build with pity,
And much joy they take,
Not from tall buildings which adorn a city.
But from friends they make.

The sky means something to them, and the beauty
Of tree and flower
Lightens the dark, drab days of dreary duty
And many an hour.
They give themselves to song and merry laughter,
High faith and things of worth, and shape their souls to face the long hereafter
With courage on the earth.

Switzerland has increased her import duty on radios more than 300 per cent.

DANGER ON THE AIR.

The harm that may be done by "quack" medical programs on the radio is a matter seriously affecting the public. For this reason, it needs to receive the attention of the federal radio commission or other agency with authority to curb the evil.

The condition was emphasized by Dr. A. Haines Lippincott, president of the Jersey State Medical society, in addressng that body.

"The nauseatng material that penetrates our homes," he said, "is an insult to the intelligence of the American people and should be curbed. There should be some act to censor the broadcasting of quack medical programs and the indiscriminate recommendations made for proprietory preparations. This society also might petition the American Medical association to take some action to meet this challenge to the medical profession."

The danger pointed to by Dr. Lippincott is one to which too little attention has been paid. In the absence of any regulatory action having been taken, the American Medical association seems the proper agency to make recommendations concerning measures that should be adopted.

How many thousands of dollars persons are led to pay out for useless nostrums because of extravagant claims made for them over the radio, there is no way of knowing. This is the least danger, though. The greatest peril lies in the possibility that some of these preparations may prove injurious to the health of those led into buying them.

BABY BONDS.

When the government undertook the herculean task of financing the World war the public wondered where the needed billions could be found. By issuing Liberty bonds in denominations as low as $50 the government found all the money it wanted in the pockets of millions who had never owned a bond or share of stock before.

So the administration's public works program, involving the raising of $3,300,000,000, evokes no doubt as to the government's ability to raise the money.

While money is scarce today the proposed baby bonds of $20 denomination will find their way into millions of hands and countless hands. During the war days living costs were higher than wages and salaries yet most homes found the money for at least one bond of each loan.

Baby bonds made reconstruction possible in France after the war; they will make reconstruction possible in America today.

Were the government to issue public works bonds in denominations of $100 and higher, it would deprive of the opportunity to buy many who ask nothing more than a chance to help their country out of a danger closer than the threat of 1917. These will consider it a privilege to participate even at some personal sacrifice in the financing of a reconstruction program which promises to lift their country and themselves out of hard times.

Champion Empty Bag Holder of the World —By Clive Weed

JOB INSURANCE

Biologists declare that in their opinion the evolution of the individual human has gone about as far as it will ever go; and that if the race is to reach higher levels it will be as the result of higher group evolution. In other words, society as a whole must learn to manage human affairs better than they are now arranged. It must improve and perfect social teamwork, and so order matters that there shall be enough of good things of life to go around, and that each shall get his proper share. When we have stabilized employment and have assured a living wage to all who are willing to work for it, we shall have taken a long stride toward this Utopian goal.

Job insurance has been suggested as a means toward that end, but just who on the public payroll could be expected to take much interest in the jobs of others and the well-being of others between jobs?

Most people have a certain amount of job insurance even now, and no one to thank for it but themselves. It is in farms and homesteads, in savings banks, life insurance, building and loan stock, securities, professional equipment, businesses and other interests. Some are too young to have had time to surround themselves with such defenses against want; others, who are older, have tried and failed. Some lack job insurance as the result of ill health or incomplete training; others through shiftlessness and sheer incompetence; and a certain percentages of lame ducks we have always with us.

Self-reliance is the outstanding trait of the American people; and it is to the wise and manful exercise of that trait that the nation must look for the most liberal and the most effective job insurance.

The great danger in the Morgan inquiry is that Senator Glass will suffer apoplexy defending poor, persecuted Morgan.

At the expenses allowed them the American delegates to the World Economic Conference, at least, will be economic.

The people who made fortunes on the stock market the last few weeks probably learned in 1929 how to lose them.

"Spinach," asserts a packer, "is good for the nerves, the teeth and the complexion." While pie is good to eat.

A NEEDED LESSON.

It is not to be disputed that many municipalities are in serious financial difficulties, but that the federal government should take on the responsibility of giving them relief is not so certain.

This matter of federal relief will have to stop somewhere, and it might be well to begin looking around now for this point.

President Roosevelt, recently appealed to by a group of mayors asking that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation act be amended to permit the granting of loans to cities in financial difficulties, was reported to have opposed the step. He took the position that the states rather than the federal government should provide the required help. For the government to intervene, he held, would mean the bringing of municipal politics under federal control or influence, and he did not think this would be a wise thing.

He did not oppose, however, extension of the bankruptcy laws to apply to cities as they now apply to railroads by permitting them to go into a federal court and get permission to reorganize their financial structure with the approval of a majority of their creditors.

Whatever the outcome, the situation should serve to impress upon the people of the cities the necessity for going slowly in piling up debts. A day of reckoning will come, as it has come now for many municipalities facing possible bankruptcy. Such a lesson was needed.

THE PUTTERESS

The world's workers are divided into two classes, those who work energentically and effectively, and those who fuss and putter over their tasks, and take an inordinate amount of time. Times like the past year have constituted a temptation leading many who ordinarily good workers, to become mere putterers.

A putterer might be defined as a slow dawdling worker who directs the motions of his hands in an aimless and incompetent way, wasting time by feeble and ill directed motions, failing to give due attention to his work, letting his mind wander while the work drags along.

The putterers have to stop frequently to watch cars or trains go by, or to light their pipes, or see what their neighbors are doing. When men have been out of work for a time, there is a tendency to lose working power, and the task that would seem fairly easy in ordinary times really seems hard.

Normal people hate idleness, and if they once get a job they will put in some big licks to show they appreciate the chance, and are determined to give their money's worth of effort. A time when jobs are scarce any many are idle is a time when the people should be thankful for any work they can find, and anxious to do their best at it. That attitude promotes recovery from depression, since it reduces the cost of labor, and encourages folks to start out on new projects.

We're still waiting for the panhandlers to reduce the price of a cup of coffee from a dime to a nickel.

ONE WAR ENDED

The League of Nations has brought two warring nations to a recognition of their league obligations by ceasing hostilities and submitting to the league for settlement the cause of the clash.

In impressive ceremonies at Geneva, Columbia and Peru formally agreed to end their fighting on the Amazon for the possession of Leticia. The terms of the report adopted by the league council last year were accepted. The disputed territory will be turned over to a league commission to administer pending settlement of the dispute through the commission. The latter is authorized to use international forces in maintaining order during the interim. The league having no military force at its disposal, it was indicated that Colombian troops would be "internationalized" temporarily for service in the disputed area.

The settlement has particular interest for the United States by reason of the fact that it is the first time the league has intervened successfully in a dispute in that section of the world covered by the Monroe doctrine. A citizen of the United States will be on the commission to settle the quarrel.

The success of the league in ending the Amazon war doesn't take on the importance of course, that would attach to it if the warring nations had been world powers. It, nevertheless, is one star in the crown of the league and comes at a time when the latter's prestige and influence had suffered serious decline. The possibility of its proving an influential example to other nations to adopt peaceful means of settling their disputes gives the league achievement additional importance.

COURTHOUSE HITCHING POSTS ARE AGAIN IN USE AS "DOBBIN" APPEARS IN COME BACK ROLE

Veterans about the courthouse Thursday morning were recalling old times—the times when they were considerably younger and before the advent of the automobiles and airplanes.

The incident which started the conversations was seen at the west side of the court yard.

A saddled horse was tied at one of the hitching posts which have been allowed to remain despite their disuse for many years.

There are a number of the old hitching posts—railroad rails—remaining on the west side of the courthouse lawn adjacent to the paved street.

In the days of "old Dobbin" there were hitching posts and racks on several sides of the courthouse lawn, but a majority of them have been removed—about a half dozen remaining as a relic of "other days."

"There used to be a chain running through those railroad rails, making a fine rack, but guess some one removed the chain to stake a cow," one old-timer remarked.

"Old Dobbin is coming back—see that horse tied to the rack—that calls back 30 and 40 years ago," one remarked.

"It was a common occurrence to see scores of horses tied about the court lawn, long before the present bulding was erected in 1905," it was stated.

There was some agitation for the removal of the old hitching posts several years ago, but some of the county officials vetoed the proposal and left them as relics of the "other days," but one was in use Thursday, and has been used frequently during the past several months.

MUCH OIL PRODUCED IN NAVARRO COUNTY TAX ROLLS INDICATE

Navarro county is "not through" as an oil production center despite the general impression that the oil production in the county has dwindled until it is a negligible amount.

This information is furnished by Andrew G. Steele, deputy tax assessor, who has completed his work of assessing oil properties for this year.

According to the tax rendition of the producers in the county for the months of January, February and March, on which the year's taxation is based, Navarro county will produce approximately 1,252,605 barrels of oil. This is a far cry from the peak production in 1923 and 1924 when the Corsicana-Powell field alone produced 354,000 barrels of oil in one day, but Navarro county is still an oil center when more than 1,250,000 barrels aer produced.

The total production in Navarro county for the first three months of the year amounted to 308,955 barrels, a daily average of 3,377 barrels.

The history of the field, however, has been that the production decreases from the figures of the first three months, and the 1933 production will probably be slightly under 1,250,000 barrels.

The above figures include the Corsicana-Powell deep and shallow, Powell shallow, Corsicana shallow, Currie-Richland deep and Rice shallow fields.

REPRESENTATIVES OF WILLARD BATTERY COMPANY MET HERE

Representatives of twenty-three towns in four counties attended a distributors' and wholesaler dealers' meeting of the Willard Battery Company held in the quarters of the Ellis Tire & Battery Company Thursday night.

A Dutch lunch was served to the various dealers before the business session in buffet style in the parkway in the rear of the Corsicana battery station.

Details of the Willard "New Deal" were presented to the attendants both verbally and visually through speeches, round-table discussions, and a moving picture by E. W. Ellis, wholesale dealer for this district; E. W. Whittenberg of Dallas, zone manager; and Don Steagall, Dallas, business counselor.

Among the towns represented were Teague, Frost, Fairfield, Round Prairie, Wortham, Mexia, Dawson, Buffalo, Oakwood, Centerville, Groesbeck, Marquez, Kosse, Jewett, Hearne, Blooming Grove, Purdon, Richland Kerens, Rice, Roane and Normangee. The Corsicana division embraces Navarro, Leon, Freestone and Limestone counties.

Mr. Ellis expressed great satisfaction and pleasure at the large attendance at the meeting, declaring that it was possible principally because of the system of hard-surfaced roads completed in this section of the state. Such meetings were impossible because of road conditions a few years ago, he said. A majority of the attendants did not close their places of business until 7 o'clock and then reached the meeting place before the business meeting began at 8 o'clock.

The battery dealers and visiting officials asserted that this was a graphic illustration of Corsicana's strategic position for a wholesale distributing point.

The meeting held in Corsicana was one of a series of 20 that will cover the state of Texas.

Man Arrested Here Turned Over Dallas Officers Thursday

A white man arrested Wednesday night by Patrolman Allen York was released to Dallas officers Thursday afternoon after city officers had completed their investigation of an alleged attempt to burglarize the Fifth Avenue branch of Jackson Cash Stores.

An automobile and kit of burglars' tools were also turned over to the Dallas detectives.

Sheriff's Office.

Deputy Sheriff's Walter Hayes and J. M. Westbrook destroyed a still on Richland creek near the Burleson bridge crossing late Thursday.

The "pot" was a 200-gallon affair. Six barrels of mash were destroyed. The still apparently had been in operation at this site for several months, the officers said. It was equipped with a pump into the creek and was in an almost inaccessible location. The still was not in operation at the time of the raid. No arrests were made.

The officers chopped the still to pieces and rendered it useless.

TO PRESENT PLAY AT EMHOUSE SCHOOL ON FRIDAY NIGHT

The young people of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church of Corsicana will present the three-act comedy-drama, "All On Account of Polly," at the Emhouse High School Auditorium, tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

The play is considered one of the best of its class, and is especially adapted for presentation by a cast of young people.

The plot revolves about Polly Perkins, a girl from rural New England, who comes to the city to live with her socially ambitious relatives, and some of the situations that arise are humorous indeed.

Between acts there will be vocal numbers by the girls chorus and a male quartette and also a hilarious blackface skit by two small children.

Business Grows Better Review Shows Friday

NEW YORK, June 16.—(AP)—Continuing its forward movement, business has so far given no indications of the usual seasonal slackening, said the Dun and Bradstreet review today.

Reports received by the agency this week "emphasized increasing employment and advancing wages, with plans of summer closing abandoned, as orders make necessary a further widening of schedules," many industries are booked well into early fall.

"The almost unbroken continuity of the broadening of the advance precludes the influence of inflationary measures as the sole impetus, as the rapid sequence of supporting commercial developments has allowed no gap for retardative factors to exert their power," the review continued.

"There has so far been no evidence that the business revival is to be temporary," it stated.

Hearing on Cotton Seed Products Rate Set for June 27th

AUSTIN, June 16.—(AP)—The railroad commission today set for hearing here June 27 a petition asking for emergency reduction in freight rates on cotton seed, cotton seed cake, meal, hulls and cotton seed oil in car loads.

Application for the reduction was made by the Texas cotton seed crusher's association, which complained present rates are "unjust, unreasonable and discriminatory in character in that they are not applied on both single and point line hauls between all lines in Texas."

Financial Legislation.

Took the American dollar off gold, placed the banking system under emergency control, cancelled all public and private promises to pay in gold.

Appropriated more than $5,270,000,000 most of it for extraordinary expenditures, to be bond issue financed, and not included in the regular budget. Empowered the president to reduce normal expenditures nearly $1,000,000,000 to bring the regular budget to somewhat of a balance.

Imposed new taxes to yield $220,000,000 a year to fund the extraordinary bond issue; continued through 1934 all special excises by the previous congress; enlarged the federal tax on gasoline and transferred the electricity three per cent tax from consumer to producer; limited the capital gains and losses provision of income tax law.

Ordered far-reaching revision of American banking methods, limiting the power of private banks, reducing the opportunities for speculation with bank credits, insuring deposits restrictedly and strengthening federal reserve supervision.

Put issuance of all securities under federal supervision, inaugurating policy of making seller beware.

Authorized country's biggest public construction program, more than three billion dollars worth to create employment.

Voted first federal large scale direct relief grants, $500,000,000.

Made possible anti-trust law suspension for new industrial policy of government - supervised trade agreements to control production, boost prices, wages and employment.

Approved creation of civilian conservation corps, to employ quarter million young men at conservation work on dollar a day basis.

Gave secretary of agriculture power to boost farm prices through a wide variety of alternative programs, combining most of the farm relief proposals of the past ten years.

COMPLETE POURING BLOCK OF CONCRETE EAST FIRST AVENUE

Pouring of the block of pavement connecting Highway 75 with the Roane-Chatfield lateral road on East First avenue was completed Thursday, it was announced Friday.

The six-mile strip of Highway 22 from a point on the Corsicana-State Home road to the Consolidated road district No. 1 line near Pinkston is the only project under the original road program not completed. The money has been placed in escrow within the state highway department and contract for this road is expected this year.

Government to Call For Bids Much Building

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—The administration approved plans today to call for bids on $25,000,000 of public building 45 days from now, in addition to a like amount on which bids are now sought.

Postmaster General Farley and L. W. Robert, assistant secretary of the treasury, sanctioned the arrangements; but detailed lists of the specific projects for which bids are to be asked had yet to be formulated.

Robert told reporters that in addition to the $50,000,000 already certain to be spent on postoffices, federal buildings, court houses, immigration stations, etc., assuring that the government would seek to have $100,000,000 of new buildings under way before October.

The projects for which bids have already been called to be opened next month include:

ESSENTIALS OF GOOD PECAN SOIL GIVEN IN ADDRESS SATURDAY

NAVARRO COUNTY PECAN GROWERS ASSOCIATION IS NAME ADOPTED BY BODY

Essential charcteristics of good pecan soil were presented to members of the Navrro County Pecan Growers association at the regular meeting held in the county courtroom of the Navarro county courthouse Saturday afternoon by Oscar Gray, vocational director of North Texas Agricultural college at Arlington.

L. R. Nolen, president of the association presided at the session. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary C. C. Morris, county agent, and approved unanimously. The association formally adopted the name of Navarro County Pecan Growers association.

Considerable discussion followed on future meetings. It was suggested that three field meetings be held each year; one in the late fall or winter for top working, one in the spring for budding and grafting, and another in midsummer for summer grafting. It was agreed that all business meetings would be held on Saturday afternoons. Finally the officers of the association were named as a committee to select the place and date of the next regular meeting and future meetings.

State Meeting Here.

Mr. Gray was then introduced to the association and outlined some of the plans for the meetings of the State Pecan Growers association to be held in Corsicana on July 11, 12, 13. He declared that he anticipated one of the best meetings in the history of the association, and that some definite results of experiments in pecan culture would be presented at every session. Particularly valuable information will be presented on varieties and diseases of pecans he said. He also stated that the ladies were welcome and urged to attend the convention sessions.

Returning to the subject of "Pecan Soils," Mr. Gray asserted that fanciers should be very careful in selecting soils for the planting of pecan orchards, pointing out that a poor variety could be corrected by grafting another variety, but that transplanting was the only remedy for poor soil.

He asserted that the character of the soil determined the success or failure of the pecan grow- and that it was recommended that the planter follow such indications as the presence of native trees or similar trees.

Good Drainage.

Good drainage was the first requirement mentioned for good [illegible] Mr. Gray said that pecan [illegible]s liked water but that too [illegible]t water was not good for [illegible]trees. He warned against land [illegible]re elms or willows were plenti[illegible].

He told the association members also that loose soil was a requirement, and of such nature that it would hold water, drain well, and at the same time permit free movement of the roots. Deep soil was the third factor because of its ability to store up needed moisture.

The final factor in choice of soils presented was fertility; the speaker declared that nuts could be grown cheaper on good soil than they could on poor soil; he warned the growers that the price of pecans was due to drop and that they need not expect the banner prices of a few years ago, and that the cro- would have to be produced economically and for this reason suggested that only good native trees be used for grafting and budding.

Plenty of Water.

Summarizing, he said that the pecan tree liked plenty of water but did not like "wet feet"; that the soil should be deep and loose, asserting that roots spread twice as far as the tops; poor soil was a sure indication of poor crops, and no orchard is better than the soil upon which it is planted. He told his listeners that it was as easy to make a failure of pecan orchards as it wa- in any other business.

E. C. Butterfield of Winona, chairman of the state program committee, was introduced to the meeting, and urged the Navarro county growers to attend the convention.

County Agent Morris announced a field day at the main experiment station at College Station on June 30. He stated that plans were being made to take at least 25 representatives from this county, and that the caravan would leave about 6 a. m. on the 30th.

PLANT LICE MAY BE CONTROLLED AT VERY SMALL COST

MILDRED FARMERS SCHOOL FIND SOLUTION FOR PEST NOW IN EVIDENCE

Plant lice can be controlled with [illegible] materials costing three cents [illegible] gallon for the stock solution, [illegible] major decision reached at [illegible] meeting of the Mildred [illegible] live-at-home evening [illegible] on the night of June 13.

[illegible] stock solution of the kero- emulsion is made by mixing [illegible] half pound of laundry soap, [illegible] gallon of water and two gal- [illegible]s of kerosene oil. The water [illegible]heated to boiling, the soap is dissolved and the kerosene is added. The mixture is then mixed thoroughly by the use of a pump or by vigorous stirring. This solution is mixed with nine times as much water by volume and should be applied to the plants by spraying late in the afternoons.

Two members of the class, Mrs. J. S. Strother and Rev. E. L. Liddell, had used the kerosene mixture for lice control prior to the first meeting and both testified as to its successful extermination of the pests.

Other problems to be studied at this summer evening school include canning of fruits and vegetables, ant control, insect control, arranging a live-at-home budget, and planting fall gardens.

The school is being conducted by S. L. Adams, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Mildred High school. The meetings will be held on Thursday evenings at 8:30 in the auditorium of the Mildred grammar school.

Checking Up on Congress: A Summary

No. 1—The Special Session And Its Emergency 'Pulmotor'

The special session of congress moved toward adjournment with a record of legislation unprecedented in peace time. Outstanding cogs of the recovery machine it fashioned—a "pulmotor" designed to revive lagging business—are measures to balance the budget, supervised by Lewis Douglas, budget director; to expand credit, with William H. Woodin, treasury secretary, immediately in charge; to coordinate railways and end cut-throat competition, a job ehrusted to Joseph B. Eastman; to unite industry in a cooperative effort to restore prosperity, with Col. Hugh M. Johnson directing; and to bring relief to the farmer, a task in charge of George N. Peek. The whole machine is designed to revolve about President Roosevelt's far-reaching program designed to aid the rehabilitation of industry.

(What has the special session of congress accomplished? What weapons has it fashioned to combat the emergency. This is the first of a series of four daily articles summarizing its legislative achievements.)

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A gigantic pulmotor, probably the most massive machine ever built by any government for constructive purposes, has been fashioned by congress under the direction of the Roosevelt administration.

Some cogs in this machine are already functioning. By fall its designers expect it to be hitting on all of its big cyliners, pumping new life into the business structure with the expenditure of billions of dollars on employment-giving construction and for relief of the debt-ridden in city, village and farm.

Government As "Farmer."

The record-breaking array of major legislation enacted in three months reaches into practically every field of economic activity, touching the baker, the butcher and the candlestick maker.

It establishes an extraordinary partnership between government and industry and between Uncle Sam and John Farmer. It vests unprecedented powers in President Roosevelt and the administrators of the larger relief projects.

Measures dealing with industry, agriculture, employment, banking, bankrutcy, mortgages, railroads, government economy, securities, taxation and power development have been enacted. Virtually all are aimed at one general objective —the banishment of economic distress.

Employment Increase Sought.

Every major piece of emergency legislation is designed to bring about an increase in employmnt, a rise in wages and in price levels and restoration of the purchasing power of the farmer and wage earner—twin keys to increased business volume.

Spearheads of the nationwide attack on the depression is the National Industrial Recovery bill, which will be directed by Col. Hugh M. Johnson This bill is a two-edged sword, providing for the expenditure of $3,300,000,000 for public works on the one hand, and the co-ordination of industrial effort on the other by joining business units in trade associations for co-operative endeavor The purpose of the bill is to increase wages, stop cut-throat competition, revive industry with huge government expenditures.

Farm Problems Attacked.

The second major portion of the legislative program is the farm relief bill, designed to raise the prices of farm products by cutting down production where surpluses exist. George N. Peek will administer this bill. Another farm bill provides for the reduction or refunding mortgages held by individuals to the government or by direct loans of cash to the farmer.

Similar in intent to the farm mortgage bill, is a home mortgage bill which sets up a federal corporation to take over home mortgages in exchange for government bonds, or to lend money to home owners to pay off mortgages in part.

Balancing the budget is encompassed in legislation greatly reducing expenditures to war veterans and in reorganizing governmental departments. Lewis M. Douglas, director of the budget, is the principal agent in attacking both items.

Rail Co-Ordination Fostered.

Another important law is the railroad act, providing, first, for the co-ordination of transportation facilities, and, second, for aid to railroads in reorganizing their financial structures. Joseph B. Eastman of the Interstate Commerce commission, as co-ordinator, will supervise the program.

Several bills attack the money situation directly. Generally under the supervision of Secretary William H. Woodin, of the treasury department, these bills permit use of $3,000,000,000 in special currency to retire government bonds, the expenditure of $3,000,000,000 by the Federal Reserve banks in the open market for government bonds, the authority to reduce the gold content of the dollar by 50 per cent, or to fix a ratio between gold and silver. Other similar legislation gives the secretary power a hurry the opening of closed banks, removes the gold payment clause form all bonds, and permits the acceptance of silver in payment of war debts.

States Get Relief Money

Among the relief measures were bills granting $500,000,000 to the states for unemployment relief, the reforestation act to give employment quickly to some 250,000 men, and the measure furthering the gigantic Muscle Shoals plan to create a new industrial and agricultural area in the Tennessee valley.

Another bill attempts to protect the investor in secrities by requiring fuller information from the seller. Still another bill sets a nationwide system of unemployment exchanges.

RED CROSS MEETING IN DALLAS TO GIVE MORE INFORMATION

MRS. R. B. MITCHELL ATTENDS MEETING ON VETERANS' STATUS

Since home service to war veterans and their dependents remains a fundamental responsibility of the American National Red Cross, and since the vital changes in veterans' administration regulations and procedure make it necessary for home service and claims' workers to have the maximum instruction possible before July 1, the Midwestern branch, St. Louis headquarters, American National Red Cross, is calling a series of conferences during the latter part of this month. The conference for Navarro county chapter will be held June 19-20 in Dallas.

In issuing the invitation to attend this conference to A. F. Mitchell, local chairman, and Mrs. R. B. Mitchell, executive secretary, F. A. Winfrey, acting manager of National Red Cross it St. Louis, stated:

"Only a limited number of our larger chapters are invited to this meeting. They represent communities in which we feel the problem under consideration will become acute shortly after July 1.

The subjects for discussion will be divided into two sections, First, the technical phases of claims work and the assistance that chapters are expected to render veterans under new regulations; second, discussions of administrative problems confronting chapters incidental to the increased load of claims work and direct relief.

The volume of work since the president's economy bill was enacted has so increased in the local chapter that there is scarcely a moment of the day that some veteran is not being interviewed with reference to the change in the status of his claim.

Mrs. R. B. Mitchell, whose major responsibility with the Red Cross of this county for the past three years has been claims work, will attend the Dallas conference.

Ice Cream Supper.

An ice cream supper will be held at the Pursley schoolhouse Friday night, June 23, as a benefit for the 4-H club, it was announced today. The public is cordially invited.

LOSS OF TURKEYS HEAVY IN COUNTY; REMEDY IS GIVEN

COUNTY AGENT MORRIS SAYS BLACKHEADS CONTROLLED BY PREVENTION

Loss of turkeys from blackheads, resulting from worm infection in Navarro county is as high at 50 per cent in some localities, C. C. Morris, county farm demonstration agent announced Monday morning in giving information concerning the infection, and how it may be prevented.

The trouble is a seasonal one, and appears about this time each year. The turkeys begin to droop and drop their wings, and their droppings are of a yellow or brown foamy color. On post mortem examination, lesions or ulcer-like spots are found on the inside walls of the cecum or appendix and the liver shows well defined sunken circular spots, usually greenish in color.

Mr. Morris said there is no positive cure for the trouble, but it is controlled only through prevention. If the turkeys are kept separate from chickens, and free from worms, the blackhead infection will not develop. In addition to keepin them away from chickens, they should be given a standard worm treatment now, and repeat the treatment in September. The farm demonstration agent said there is no treatment effective when given turkeys in drinking water and it is of little avail when given in feed.

The only positive way to administer the treatment is to give each bird an individual dose. All worm treatments should be given late in the afternoon or evening, and the droppings should be destroyed on the following day by burying or burning, Mr. Morris said.

The farm demonstration agent said that over 90 per cent of the losses among turkeys are caused from worms and blackheads.

Local Fireman At Chicago Exposition

A telegram was received Sunday by the Corsicana fire department from William R. Babb, fireman, saying he had arrived in Chicago, and was enjoying the sights of the "Century of Progress" world's fair. He left in his car Friday, and drove to St. Louis, and went from there to Chicago via train or bus.

ANOTHER SUSPECT IN KANSAS CITY KIDNAPING SOUGHT FOR RETURN TO MISSOURI TODAY

KANSAS CITY, June 19.—(AP)—Seeking the speedy return of another suspect in the recent kidnaping of Miss Mary McElroy, two Kansas City detectives were en route today to Roanoke, Va., where George McGee, 21, was held for Missouri authorities.

E. C. Reppert, director of police, announced last night he had been informed that McGee, a brother of Walter McGee, alleged leader of the gang which obtained $30,000 for the release of the daughter of H. F. McElroy, city manager of Kansas City, had admitted participation in the abduction and had expressed the desire to waive extradition.

Walter McGee, arrested at Amarillo, Texas, and Clarence Click, taken in custody here, were indicted by a federal grand jury, and face kidnaping charges drawn under state statutes which provide a death penalty for the offense.

The Kansas City detectives, William Simpson and John Lothridge, also were instructed to question a man who gave his name as Howard Elmer Wilson, 22, Meridian, Kas. He was arrested at Lynchburg, Va., and was reported here to have been seen with McGee.

McGee was arrested Saturday night on charges of drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons. Roanoke police said they identified him through a circular from the Kansas City police department. He voiced resentment of purported confessions of his brother and Click, who he said "squealed" on him.

Officers still are seeking another suspect in the McElroy kidnaping. He is Clarence Stevens.

Miss McElroy was kidnaped by two men and released about 30 hours later after having been chained to a hall in a house near Shawnee, Kas.

DEMONSTRATIONS PIT-TYPE TOILETS IN NAVARRO COUNTY

Miss Ruth McNabb, home demonstration agent, and C. C. Morris, county farm demonstration agent, accompanied by L. H. Male, sanitary engineer of the State Health department, Austin, conducted two pit-type toilet construction demonstrations Monday. Follow-up demonstrations, when the projects will be completed, will be held at the two communities Wednesday.

At 9 o'clock Monday morning the first demonstration was conducted at the home of Mrs. J. E. Gilmore, in the Phillips Chapel community, and Monday afternoon on the farm of Mrs. Musa Tarrer, in the Sands' Chapel, or Finch community.

Similar demonstrations will be given Thursday at the Tupelo school, in the morning and at Winkler, on the farm of Mrs. Mollie Anderson in the afternoon, with follow-up meetings later.

Before leaving this morning, Sanitary Engineer Male said his department is striving to improve the toilet and drainage problems in rural communities where typhoid fever is prevalent, and intestional diseases are numerous.

Fire Alarm Sunday.

The Corsicana Fire Department answered an alarm to the corner of Seventh street and Seventh avenue about 3:30 Sunday afternoon, when a truck backfired and ignited some surplus gasoline. The blaze had been extinguished when the trucks arrived, and no damage was reported.

Pickle Making Was Subject of White's Chapel Club Women

The White's Chapel Home Demonstration club met Wednesday, June 14, at the school house. About 30 members and several visitors and one new member were present. After a short business session the meeting was turned over to Miss Ruth McNabb.

Brining and pickling cucumbers was the interesting lesson given by Miss McNabb. "Cucumbers must be cured in brine of the right solution to increase firmness, to change them from pale green to dark green, and to make them crisp," it was stated. The different sizes of cucumbers are used for making the different kinds of pickles. Small cucumbers are used for sweet pickles, medium for sour, and large for dill pickles.

Miss McNabb also stated that cabbage, cauliflower, onions and small melons might be brined and pickled. A plate of pickle was passed for all to see what delicious pickles could be made at home.

After Miss McNabb had finished all enjoyed a group singing, and two special numbers by little Betty Jean and Thomas Garrett. Betty eJan Garrett also gave two piano selections.

AUTY CHATS

Requests for beauty information desired by Edna Kent Forbes cannot be answered by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (e.s.a.s.) and 2 cents in stamps to cover cost of printing and handling. For the illustrated "BEAUTY" ten cents in stamps with fully e.s.a.s. must be enclosed. Miss Forbes in care of this paper.

PATTING IN YOUTH

The newest beauty treatments for smoothing and rejuevenating skin are the pat and slap methods. There is absolutely no danger of pulling or of stretching facial muscles by this method, and it is every bit as effective as massage. In fact, it is more stimulating, and it produces results on a shorter space of time, which is a great advantage these days.

You can give yourself facials at home by the pat and slap method, and they will be almost as good as those you get in a shop. You can, of course, do all the patting and slapping as well as anyone in a shop. But you do not relax, as you would if you lay back in a chair with someone working over your face, while you thought drowsily about nothing for an hour or so.

Cleanse your face with a fine oil, or a very light cleansing cream. This is the first step always in every face treatment. Remove what you can of the cleanser with tissues and then take off the rest by using a mild astringent or the skin tonic, wiping this over the face with a piece of cotton. Then, using more astringent, or perhaps a different and slightly stronger astringent, begin your patting and slapping. You can use a flat rubber disc patter on a flexible handle—very effective these. Or you can use the back of your hand. Personally, I like to fasten a bit of cotton over a patter with a rubber band, and, wetting it with tonic, slap it over and over the face. It splashes a bit, but what of that? You do this in the bathroom, where a few drops of skin tonic on the mirror do no harm. And you tie a towel around your shoulders.

Pat, or slap a lot under the chin. If you stimulate these lower muscles, you delay the day of bad chins and sagging muscles and mouth wrinkles for a long, long time. Pat or slap very lightly around and under the eyes, and over the forehead if you have wrinkles there. Do this for a few minutes each day, and see the improvement.

Mrs. G. H.—The itching sensation may just be from nervousness. Have some one look over your scalp carefully to see if there are any scaly deposits in the places where the itching occurs. Rub a simple antiseptic ointment into your scalp the night before a shampoo if you find scales on it, and send a stamped self-addressed envelope for a suitable hair tonic formula, as I shall be glad to mail it to you. You can make up an antiseptic ointment yourself if you take oil and rub a little sulhpur into it, about a tenth part sulphur to the oil. If you use a plain oil instead of the ointment, a mixture of half olive and half castor oil will make a very nice consistency for rubbing into the scalp and loosening the scale from it.

Trading was active at the start with demand attributed to the trade, commission houses, Liverpool and coninental account.

The market held fairly steady although reacting slightly from the best under scattered realising with July quoted at around 9.11 and December at 9.51 at the end of the first half hour, or 15 to 20 points net higher.

Fluctuations later in the morning were rather irregular, reflecting uncertainty over the announcement on cotton acreage control. The market declined to 9.11 for July and 9.49 for December, but then rallied to 9.23 and 9.65 respectively by midday or 26 to 30 points net higher. The first word of the Washington acreage announcements was immediately followed by some reselling, causing setbacks of about 8 to 11 points from the best, July selling at 9.15 and December at 9.56 or around 12:15 o'clock.

The market was firm and active at the close on general buying and the strength in the stock market. Futures closed very steady, 27-32 higher; spot quiet, middling 9.35.

New York Cotton Firm.
NEW ORLEANS, June 19.—(AP)—Cotton opened active and higher today. [Firs]t trades here showed gains of 16 to [illegible] points and the market advanced owing to Washington's announcement against [temp]orary stabilization proposals and owing to a firmer opening in stock. October advanced to 9.39 and December [illegible] up 25 to 23 points compared [with] Saturday's close.

[Late]r in the first hour prices reacted [illegible] points from the top on profit-taking [and] some hedge-selling.

The market was quite active the first [ha]lf of the morning owing to the sharp advance in sterling and higher stocks and grain. There was good trade buying and price fixing by the mills. October advanced to 9.45 and December to 9.60, or 28 to 29 points above Saturday's close.

When Secretary Wallace's announcement from Washington on plans for acreage control was received, it was variously regarded, but many traders took an immediately unfavorable view of the feature calling for voluntary co-operation by farmers. October promptly eased to 9.20 and December to 9.35, down 25 points from the early highs but still 3 to 4 points above yesterday's close. Later, the market rallied nine points from the lows to 9.29 for October and at mid-session the market was steady about 12 points up from Saturday's close.

Grain Prices Advanced.
CHICAGO, June 19.—(AP)—Wheat, corn and rye went soaring today about 3 cents a bushel, with most of the grain list overtopping the season's high price record.

As a result of prolonged extreme high temperatures and lack of moisture, crop authorities said hopes for a 1933 big yield of spring wheat had been abandoned. Renewal of inflation talk was also a source of skyrocketing of prices.

Wheat closed strong, 2 3-8@2 7-8 above Saturday's finish, corn 1 7-8@2 3-4 up, oats 2 1-8@2 5-8 advanced and provisions unchanged to a rise of 27 cents.

CHICAGO, June 19.—(AP)—Sharp upturns in grain values early today accompanied reports of severe crop damage to spring wheat both American and Canadian. Damage was attributed largely to excessive high temperatures. Opening 3-4 to 1 7-8 up, wheat afterward rose further. Corn started at 1-2 to 1 cent advance, and subsequently held near the initial range, with oats outdoing the season's high price record.

Strictly Personal At Ideal Tuesday

Inner workings of the so-called "get acquainted clubs," where the lonely of all ages and both sexes for a fee, can find companionship, and possibly wives and husbands, are exposed in "Strictly Personal," film coming to the Ideal Theatre Tuesday with Marjorie Rambeau, Eddie Quillan and Dorothy Jordan in leading roles.

The story centers around an escaped convict and his wife, and the daughter of a fellow-convict whom they shelter. The convict, his face remodeled by a plastic surgen, and his career remodeled by his own desire to go straight, operates a "get acquainted" club of the better type. It is run strictly on the level until a confidence man drops into town and recognizes the proprietor. Under threat of exposure, he forces the convict to take him into partnership and convert the establishment into a none-too-scrupulous meeting place for persons of amerous disposition.

MARKETS LEAPED FORWARD MONDAY AS DOLLARS DESCEND

RUSH BUYERS IN STOCKS AND COMMODITIES INCREASES TRADE PROPORTIONS

NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—Financial markets were borne upward today on a new wave of inflationary psychology. As the dollar declined sharply in foreign exchange markets, following reports that the Washington administration disapproved of currency stabilization at present rates, stocks soared 2 to 7 or more points in feverish trading. The close was strong. Approximately 6,000,000 shares changed hands.

BY VICTOR EUBANK,
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—Financial markets leaped forward with renewed gusto today as the American dollar dropped sharply in foreign exchange markets and the Washington administration indicated disapproval of currency stabilization at existing rates.

With inflationary psychology once more to the fore and business and industry continuing to march steadily forward, there was a rush of buyers in stocks and commodities which carried trading volumes to sizeable proportions. Shares, up 1 to around 6 points at one time, erased a substantial part of their last week's set-back. Wheat spurted around 2 cents a bushel on dollar depreciation and expectations of an international acreage reduction agreement. Cotton advanced about a dollar a bale and corn stepped up some 2 cents a bushel. Silver futures also gained about a cent an ounce.

The so-called "wet" group of stocks, idle recently, moved into the forefront of the rally with National Distillers, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, American Commercial Alcohol and Owens-Illinois advancing 4 to 6 or more points. Homestake Mining got up some 7 points, and gains of around 2 to 5 were recorded by American Telephone, Allied Chemical, U. S. Smelting, United Aircraft, General Motors, U. S. Steel, Continental Can, Dome Mines, American Can, Consolidated Gas, Johns-Manville, Union Pacific, New York Central, Santa Fe, Delaware and Hudson, Case, Du Pont, Chrysler, American and Foreign Power and North American. Many issues were up fractionally to more than a point.

Curb Rallies.

NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—Boosted anew by an inflationary psychology growing out of weekend developments concerning the dollar, curb stocks rallied sturdily today.

Electric Bond and Share was especially strong, climbing several points, though its rise was matched by American Gas and Electric and Consolidated Gas of Baltimore.

Oils were buoyant, Humble and Gulf showing large gains. South Penn and Standard of Indiana strengthened appreciable. Parker Rust Proof, Deere, Swift and Co., Novadel Agene, Aluminum of America, Hazel Atlas Glass, Newmont and Great Atlantic and Pacific showed substantial improvement over Saturday's final quotations. Gold mining issues, which were heavy most of last week, joined the advance.

Elizabeth Pulliam Suffers Broken Leg In Auto Accident

Miss Elizabeth Pulliam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Pulliam, 607 West Fifth avenue, received a broken right leg in an automobile accident near Trinidad Sunday night, but five other occupants of the car escaped without injury.

Miss Pulliam received no other injuries, and her condition is not thought to be serious.

Other occupants of the car included Lod Allison, Guy Gibson, Jr., Fred Bookout, Miss Laura Dell Coulson, and Miss Mary Ellen Granberry of Austin.

Nash was placed in the driver's seat of the car while the officers got in, Smith said, adding "the last place anyone would expect to see a prisoner would be in the driver's seat.

"They would expect him to be in the rear seat between two officers. They may not have known Nash, anyway; he had a moustache, dark glasses, a hat, and wig."

glimpses of them. Every time they came into the room I had to turn my face to the wall or face the side opposite from the kidnapers.

I believe there were five or six of them altogether.

They kept me informed as to the progress of the negotiations. Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock they came up and told me they had some "good news". That was that the ransom money had been paid. I don't even know now how much money was paid.

That night, Sunday, we started out after dark, two men, the driver and myself. They put the goggles back on me and after another ride they left me out at Wyoming on the main highway. They didn't say anything after letting me go and it was kind of dark so I couldn't set what kind of a car it was.

I landed in Wyoming early this morning and there I called my home. It was about 5:30 in the morning then. Oh, yes, the men did say something when they let me out. One said "If there's anything we can do to help you Hamm, just let us know."

After a little while the police came and took me home.

"I don't think I could find the place where I was held prisoner. I am happy to be home again.

MARKETS

American Telephone. Gains running from $1 to $3 were registered by United Aircraft, American Smelting, General Electric, U. S. Steel, American Tobacco B, American & Foreign Power, Montgomery Ward and Continental Can.

Wheat was buoyant, rising about 2 to 3 cents a bushel. Corn gained nearly as much. Cotton showed early gains of around $1 a bale, but subsequently lost some of the advance.

Cotton Advances Heavily.

NEW ORLEANS, June 19.—(AP)—Buoyed by Washington rejection of temporary stabilization and the resultant decline of the dollar, cotton prices advanced $1.35 a bale in early trading today before pausing for Secretary Wallace's acreage-control announcement.

Traders admitted athat the significance of the Wallace plan could not be judged at once and with sentiment divided the immediate effect of the plan's publication was a decline of 50 cents a bale from the early rally. The active October contract which had climbed to 9.44 eased to 9.34 as an analysis of the control program was sought.

The fact that the agricultural secretary planned to make the acreage reduction plan dependent upon voluntary co-operation of the planter drew major attention, as imposition of processing taxes had previously been disclosed as an integral part of the program.

The reaction was shortly extended to about $1.25 a bale before the market steadied and recovered in part. At mid-session, futures were quoted about 60 cents a bale above yesterday's close.

CHICAGO, June 19.—(AP)—Grains swept sharply higher in price today, influenced by severe hot weather in the wheat and corn belts and by higher quotations on British exchange. Gains approaching 3 cents a bushed were registered in wheat, corn, rye and oats with most of the list, except wheat, hitting new high levels for this season.

Trade was not necessarily broad, but buying orders were more numerous than offers to sell. Strength in securities and cotton were alas aires to the mounting grain prices.

The December delivery of wheat reached 81 cents. The maximum gain in wheat was 2 7-8 cents a bushel.

Corn and oats soared into new high ground for the year. The September delivery of corn reached 51 cents with the December at 54 3-8, a maximum gain of 2 3-4 cents. The December delivery of oats closed at 35 1-4 cents, the highest price at which oats have sold since 1930.

Purdon Lefthander Hurls Great Game in Silver City Win

Adkins, Purdon portside flinger, almost had a perfect game to his record Saturday when he limited Silver City to one hit and no runs in a regular Home League game played at Purdon. Hodges, centerfielder for Silver City, was credited with the hat that spoiled a perfect game. Purdon in the meantime hopped on Crecelius for 12 hits and 7 runs.

Sunday Purdon won a double header from McCanless, the first 21 to 3 and the second 14 to 0. These games were played at McCanless.

CONFERENCE

reaching $4.14 1-4 to the pound by mid-afternoon. This took it entirely outside the range which had been suggested for controlled stabilization. This range had been set by experts between $4.04 and $4.07 for purposes of discussion.

Agreement Denied.

Rumors that officials of central banks had reached a secret agreement to begin stabilization were emphatically denied by important American financial experts.

It was explained that the central bank chiefs have followed the situation and have developed possible technical procedure to be used if and when a final agreement is reached.

The stabilization discussions up to date were explained in brief as follows:

Conferences of experts at the British treasury at which Oliver M. W. Sprague, adviser to the American treasury department, and James P. Warburg, financial adviser to the American delegation, participated, developed a tentative plan.

Question Raised.

This plan was cabled to Washington and Washington replies, raising certain questions which must be adjusted before approval is possible.

The American experts then replied to Washington regarding these questions.

Reports that stabilization parleys were being held up pending the arrival of Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state, were flatly denied in important American delegation quarters. It was acknowledged, however, that President Roosevelt may want first hand information from Governor Harrison when the federal reserve bank official arrives in the United States.

War Debts Problem.

While the French are making an issue out of stabilization, the British are devoting much of their energy to the war debts problem, the settlement of which they maintain is vital to the success of the London gathering.

Sir Frederick Leith Ross, British government financial expert, has been fully authorized and fully armed to talk war debts with anybody in the American delegation who is willing to discuss this issue. The American delegates hold that this matter is outside their province but the British are hopeful tat Mr. Moley will be autorized to deal with the subject as soon as he arrives.

The British are prepared to create a mission to visit Washington and it is understood that Chancellor Chamberlain of the exchequerer himself is willing to go to America as soon as the conference is over.

The French delegation, while viewing the question of war obligations with undiskuised concern, has washed its hands of the whole matter and is leaving it for Paris to handle. Georges Bonnet, minister of finance and active head of the delegation, has indicated he would not have anything to do with it here.

Senator Key Pittman of Nevada at the afternoon meeting of a committee on a permanent monetary standard presented his plan for reduction of central bank reserves for currency cover to 25 per cent from the traditional 40 per cent, with the option of use of one-fifth silver in the metal reserve.

The American senator explained however, that under this plan gold would remain the measure of value. He declined to discuss his plan from the floor of the committee pending printing and distribution of it among committee. He suggested that the matter be discussed tomorrow.

Control Production And Markets Sought

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

LONDON, June 19.—(AP)—The French minister of colonies, Albert Sarraut, served notice on the world economic conference today that unless it could perfect a plan for universal control of production and markets France might have to turn back to herself and her colonies.

The minister, speaking at a meeting of the conference economic commission, urged that this subject be dealt with before the commission considered tariffs, quotas, and prohibitions, which his country regarded as "superficial evidences of disease."

Holding that "anarchy of production is the real source of the distress of the world," in advocating this change in the agenda program, he went contrary to American wishes to deal first with tariffs and allied subjects.

Ultimately, with Mr. Sarraut's concurrence, the commission decided to adhere to the original program and take up the French thesis as soon as the other is disposed of.

Many Agree to Tariff Truce.

Another outstanding development was the announcement of Dr. Hendryk Colijn of Holland, chairman of the economic commission that 49 nations, representing 85 per cent of the world's trade, already have subscribed to President Roosevelt's truce on tariff changes.

The American delegation was delighted with this response to the President's plan, and considered it already crowned with success.

A further development was that it became known that George L. Harrison, governor of the federal reserve bank of New York, who is en route to the United States, expects to have immediate conference with President Roosevelt.

Much had been made of a statement from Washington during the stabilization negotiations that Harrison had no official connection with the American delegation, and there was considerable speculation among the world parley as to the reason for his sudden return to America. It was understood that he will give Mr. Roosevelt a full report of all the monetary discussions here.

Monetary Commission.

Meanwhile, the monetary commission, under the chairmanship of James M. Cox, former governor of Ohio, got into action. Its first business was to agree that the commission be divided into two committees, one of which would consider temporary monetary measures and the other permanent measures.

It had been expected that there might be some difficulty in choosing the chairman of these committees, as several candidates had been put forward for the po[st].

Without much ado, how[ever,] Finance Minister Guido Ju[ng of] Italy was designated head [of the] committee on immediate and [tem]porary measures and Dr. [illegible] Kienboeck, president of the [na]tional bank of Austria, was named chairman of the [illegible] group.

It was agreed that [illegible] and Herr Kienboeck [illegible] with Mr. Cox and [illegible] ster Bonnet [illegible] the memberships [illegible] mittees.

Premier Colijn informed [the] commission that some delega[tes] wanted to start with the [illegible] topic on its program, "[illegible] tion of production and [illegible] ing" rather than the first, [illegible] mercial policy."

French Want Change.

The French delegates [illegible] larly wanted this change, [illegible] especially interested in the [sec]ond subject.

Sarraut, French minister of [col]onies, then took the floor, urged control of production [and] markets. Henry Chalmers, American tariff expert, and [Ne]ville Chamberlain, British c[han]cellor of the exchequer, were the interested listeners.

An Italian spokesman said [his] country proposed to apply a [gen]eral quota policy but could [illegible] only in respect to countries [which] also apply proper policies, as to customs and exchange [sta]bilization.

Foreign Minister Paul Hy[mans] of Belgium declared the a[illegible] of quotas and restrictions "the most urgent need [illegible] moment" if normal conditi[ons are] to be restored. He said [sys]tematic action should [illegible] concurrently with me[illegible] other essential steps.

"We do not exclude the [possi]bility of producers' agre[illegible]" the Belgian representative said.

To Draft Proposals.

Mr. Colijn, closing the morning session, said he hoped tomorrow to appoint one or two sub-committees to draft concrete proposals developed from today's discussions, thus completing the initial work on "commercial policy."

The commission chairman also said that he hoped to take up "co-ordination of production and marketing," as urged by the French, for general discussion tomorrow.

Just before the conference reopened for the afternoon session there was a meeting attended by the self-styled Agrarian states, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Rumania, Hungary and Bulgaria.

These countries of the Daungian bloc met to pool their proposals to place before the economic commission. It was understood their deliberations had special reference to the restriction of agricultural output and were connected indirectly with the wheat conference meetings which have been proceeding among the great wheat producers, the United States, Canada, Australia, and Argentina.

When the economic commission resumed in the afternoon Orestes Ferrara, head of the Cuban delegation, said the commission must not lose sight of the importance of reduction in tariffs.

No nation could return to the old status by unilateral or even bilateral action, the Cuban representative asserted, but all of them ought to try to restore life to international trade. If tariffs go on increasing as they have done there can be little hope, he said, of improvement, but the acceptance of the tariff truce proposal are a good augury for success.

COTTON PLAN

which Wallace is confident—he will announce the payments of benefits and proclaim the processing tax in effect beginning August 1, the start of the marketing year.

Wallace estimated that if this program succeeds approximately $100,000,000 will be paid growers as rental benefits in addition to the use of $50,000,000 to acquire full title to government-held cotton on which growers will receive benefits as a result of being able to buy it at less than market prices.

The secretary has completed arrangements for taking over cotton held by the American cotton co-operative association on which the farm credit administration has made large loans.

He has avilable for options about two and a half million bales.

Option Pool Cotton.

The cotton for the option pool is that on which the government has made loans in recent years including farm board loans on supplies held by the American Cotton Co-operative association and cotton given as collateral by farmers for seed and crop production loans.

Settlement is being made by the Farm Credit administration with those who have equities in this cotton on the basis of a price of 9 1-2 cents for Julv New York midling seven-eighth inch. Adjustment for variations in grade, staple and location of the cotton will be made.

Wallace will draw about $54,000,000 from the fund of $200,000,000 provided by congress to get administration of the farm act under way to complete settlement with the credit administration in order to obtain full title to the cotton on which the options will be ofefred at 6 cents a pound to growers co-operating in the program.

In Storage In South.

The cotton is in storage at numerous cities through the south.

In cases where farmers who made seed loans still have an equity in the cotton below the 9 1-2 cent base price, thhey will be paid in cash by the farm credit administration. A total of 788,000 bales was provided as collateral for these loans.

In the case of the farm board loans on cotton made through the cotton co-operative in recent years settlement has been for the most part completed. The farm board advances were as high as 16 cents a pound and theh depression in cotton prices since te board undertook stabilization operations long ago wiped out the equity of growers which would have necessitated any further payment.

Payments Schedule Under Both Plans

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(AP)—The full schedule of payments worked out by Secretary Wallace for cotton acreage reduction under the two alternative plans which will be made available to growers follows:

Schedule of payments with options on government cotton at six cents a pound:

100-125 yield per acre, benefit payment with option $6.

125-149 yield per acre, benefit per acre option $7.

150-174 yield per acre, benefit per acre with option $8.

175-224 yield per acre, benefit per acre with option $10.

225-274 yield per acre, benefit per acre with option $11.

275 and over yield per acre, benefit per acre with option $12.

In all of these cases the amount of cotton on which the grower will be entitled to obtain an option will be equal to the yield of the land he retires from production.

Tht yield of this land will be determined on the basis of past production of the land and the appearnce of his crop this year and its general condition.

Without Options.

The plan providing for cash benefits without options calls for these payments:

100-125 yield per acre, payment without option $7.

124-145 yield per acre, payment without option $9.

150-174 yield per acre, payment without option $11.

175-225 yield per acre, payment without option $14.

225-274 yield per acre, payment without option $17.

275- and over yield per acre, payment without option $20.

The offers by growers will be worked out in co-operation with county committees to be established in every state. The county agricultural agent will be a member or agent.

Irrevocable Offer.

When the producers sign a voluntary agreement it will constitute an irrevocable offer for a limited specified period during whhich the secretary may accept of reject it. His intention is to accept offers which will assure the largest possible reduction in this year's crop, and secondly, to distribute the benefits uniformly as far as possible over the entire c-tton belt.

After the offers have been acted upon by Wallace and his aides a formal notice will be issued to those whose signed agreements have been accepted.

It then will be the duty of each to take out of production the acreage covered by destroying it.

Replanting of the land to crops which would be moved off the farm will not be permitted but feed for livestock may be produced.

Dallas Men Disappointed.

DALLAS, June 19.—(AP)— Members of the Dallas cotton exchange were disappointed today over the processing levy of 4 cents per pound, included in government's cotton crop retirement plan.

None commented on the plan in general, explaining that its provisions had not yet been made clear to them.

Karl G. Hunt, an official of the exchange who attended a conference with Secretary Wallace in Washington two weeks ago, said he understood co-operative organizations would be used to contact thheir members and county agents to carry the government's program to non-members.

Says Little Increase Necessary.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace believes that the levying of a maximum processing tax on cotton, tentatively sceduled to begin August 1 will not result in any substantial increase in the price of cotton products.

The parity price, about 12.5 cents a pound, will be the maximum for cotton after a processing tax goes into effect, as the tax can represent only the difference between the parity price based on pre-war averages and the current farm price.

"It is quite apparent," Wallace said "that the industry could absorb the tax without increasing the price of processed materials."
